STRIKE LEADERS ARE ACQUITTED

Three Charged with Murder in Lawrence Mill Rioting Are Given Release

HOLD RECEPTION IN COURT ROOM

I. W. W. Members Hold a Jollification Mass Meeting Immediately After the Trial

COURTHOUSE, SALEM, Mass., Nov. 26.—Standing defiantly at attention in the iron barred cage in the center of the court room Joseph J. Ettor, Arturo Giovannitti and Joseph Caruso, labor leaders, charged with murder, listened to the announcement of the twelve men sitting in their case which told them they were free at last to go where they would.

Thank Jury

Their faces lighted up at the words "Not Guilty," and then, with their voices catching almost in a sob, all three cried out their thanks to the men who had refused to condemn two of them to a life time of prison and the third to the feared electric chair.

Immediately Judge Quinn from his seat at the bench nodded to the court attendants, the sheriff unlocked the doors of the cage and the trio stepped out to join the hysterical crowd that waited for them.

Caruso's smile was tearful as he clasped to his breast his diminutive wife, who had been sitting praying for the best but plainly fearing the worst. Before he had time for more than a brief caress, he was recalled to the desk by the clerk and nominal bail of $100 fixed on the remaining indictments against him, charging him with rioting.

Never to Be Tried

Five hundred dollars bail was fixed for similar indictments against Ettor and Giovannitti, and the bonds for all were promptly furnished. It was made plain that they would probably never be tried on the outstanding indictments and that at a later date, they would be called up and dismissed on formal motion.

Court was then adjourned and the doors of the room thrown open to admit the dozens of friends waiting to greet the released prisoners, who held an impromptu reception in front of the cage which has confined them.

As soon as the three prisoners reached the street, Caruso proudly marching hand in hand with his wife, they were besieged by several hundred admirers. Giovannitti answering a query as to whether he would stay in Massachusetts, said: "Yes, I will stay. So far I have only met your police, detectives, and reporters—now I want to meet some gentlemen."

Hold Jollification

"I'l have something to say later," Ettor said as he was rushed away. The throng of sympathizers immediately marched to a nearby hall. There they held a jollification mass meeting. Ettor and Giovannitti retired to the offices of their attorneys, Caruso going home with his wife to see his baby.

English Pleased

LONDON, Nov. 26.—"English workingmen's hearts are gladdened by the acquittal of our comrades, Ettor, Giovannitti and Caruso," said Ben Tillet, the English labor leader, today. "It shows that in spite of all charges of judicial corruption, workingmen can get justice in America. We get little of it here."

OPEN HAWTHORNE TRIAL

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The taking of testimony, following the opening statement of the government's case by the assistant district atorney began this afternoon in the trial before Judge Hough in the United States district court of Julian Hawthorne, son of Nathaniel Hawthorne; Joseph Quincy, former mayor of Boston; Dr. J. Norton and Albert Freeman, indicted for misuse of the mails in the selling of stocks in fraudulent mining companies.

COURT ON HOLIDAY

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 26.—Thanksgiving day will be no holiday for the dynamite conspiracy trial. Judge Anderson announced today that court would be held on Thursday, mainly out of consideration for the jury which finds its virtual imprisonment galling and wants the case brought to the earlier possible close.

GIVES MILLIONS AWAY

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 26.—Charles H. Nelson was arrested here today for giving away checks for $1,000,000 to pedestrians and attracting such a crowd that traffic was obstructed. Nelson exhibited copies of letters which he had addressed to John D. Rockefeller, J. P. Morgan, Hetty Green and others. He said he was worth eighty billion dollars.

GOMPERS BETTER

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 26.—The condition of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor today was much improved.

TO PUT UP FLAT TO HELP CUPID

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—A big job for Cupid was being planned today by Mrs. Lillian Davidson, manager of the Woman's Exchange in Evanston, who proposes to transform the large surplus of bachelors and spinsters of the fashionable suburb into staid married couples.

Her proposition is to erect a new Woman's Exchange building, with a combination apartment building and restaurant, half the building for unmarried men and half for unmarried women. The first floor will be equipped with pianos, cozy corners, soft lights and other properties calculated to hasten matrimony.

FLAYS DAVIS FOR REMOVING PLANK

McCarthy Says Press Agent Cut Anti-Trust Statement Out of Moose Platform without Authority

INSISTS IT PASSED COMMITTEE

Important Declaration in Third Party's Announcement Mysteriously Disappears

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 26.—"Oscar King Davis don't know what he's talking about when he says that the Sherman anti-trust plank was not adopted by the progressive party resolutions committee."

This was the statement made this morning by Dr. Charles E. McCarthy, after reading an interview given by Davis, press agent of the bull moose convention, to a Chicago paper.

Davis acknowledges that he cut out the missing plank, but says that he did it because it was not adopted by the committee, but was included by mistake and in that form adopted by the convention.

This was the plank in which was made the only endorsement of the Sherman law in the platform, which held the bull moose party to an anti-trust policy, and which mysteriously disappeared.

"Mr. Davis was not in the committee room when this plank was adopted," said Dr. McCarthy. "I was there and I know it was adopted. Gifford Pinchot was there, in fact secretary of the committee, and I have a letter from him saying that it was adopted. Wheeler R. Bloodgood of Milwaukee was there and I have a letter from him sayin it was adopted. George L. Record sat next to me and knows it was adopted. I said to him: 'There goes your plank.'

"It is certainly up to Davis to produce some evidence to prove his contention that the plank was not adopted, and that he had any excuse for cutting it out of the platform.

"I have no means of knowing who was behind Davis in this matter."

PIONEER RESIDENT DIES OF OLD AGE

William Nuttelman, Former Barre Farmer, Is Stricken at Home of Daughter

William Nuttelman died of old age last night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William Garbers, 1512 Madison street.

Mr. Nuttelman was eighty years old and he was born in Hanover, Germany, in 1832. He resided in the town of Barre for forty-six years and for the last three years he has been living at the home of his daughter in this city. He had a large farm in Barre. His wife died seven years ago.

Surviving him are one daughter, Mrs. William Garbers, 1512 Madison street, and two sons, Aug. Nuttelman of Barre Mills and William Nuttelman of West Salem.

The funeral will be held from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Garbers, at eleven o'clock Thursday morning and short services will be held there after which services will be held at the German Lutheran church in the town of Barre with Rev. D. A. Paustian officiating. Interment will be made in the Barre cemetery.

CAPPER'S CHANCE SLIM

TOPEKA, Kas., Nov. 26.—The chances of Arthur Capper, the republican candidate for governor in the recent election, to overcome the plurality of 31 votes which Geo. Hodges (Dem.) now holds, appeared slight today, following a decision of the supreme court, denying a writ of mandamus asked by Capper to compel the canvassing board to count ballots which had been rejected. Capper claimed that the rejected ballots were legal votes and should have been counted. Nearly 3,000 such ballots were thrown out.

DISMEMBERED BODY FOUND ON TRACKS

Robbery and Murder Theory Discredited by Coroner Kleeber Today

POCKETS ARE TURNED INSIDE OUT

Blood Found on Engine; Part of Body Missing; Money in Tobacco Sack

Coroner L. Kleeber today declared that he believed foul play is in no way responsible for the death of an unidentified man who was found on the Burlington tracks near North Junction this morning. The pockets of the clothing were turned out, indicating that the victim might have been robbed and murdered and the body placed on the track to give the impression that he had been killed by a train.

The finding of a $5 bill tied up in a tobacco sack, during the investigation conducted by the coroner, together with the mangled condition of the body led Mr. Kleeber to drop that theory.

Peterson Finds Body

The body was discovered shortly after 11 o'clock last night by E. H. Peterson, semaphore operator at North Junction. As Mr. Peterson approached North Junction, one mile north of Grand Crossing, his foot struck against part of the body, thus attracting his attention. Upon closer investigation Peterson discovered a pool of blood and several pieces of the body.

Mr. Peterson flagged the midnight southbound passenger train, No. 48, and with the aid of the train crew, collected the parts of the body which were laid together to await the arrival of an undertaker.

The head was found 200 feet south of the body, both arms and hands were severed and the left hand could not be found.

Blood on Engine

The discovery of blood on the head end of the engine which brought southbound passenger train No. 58 into the city, leads to the conclusion that he was struck by that train and thrown beneath the wheels.

No. 58 arrived at Grand Crossing at 10:10 last night. The engine was sent to the roundhouse, where Engineer Benedict and Fireman Charles Johnson, who had been in charge of it, discovered the blood. The condition of the body when found also indicated that death had occurred but a few hours before.

Description Given

The body is apparently that of a young man 20 years of age, five feet, nine inches tall, and weighing about 155 pounds. The face was smooth shaven.

The clothing consisted of two pair of overalls with gray and black stripes, a blue woolen shirt, heavy working shoes, pink underwear, a black coat and cap.

Nothing which would lead to the identification of the body was found. A rumor to the effect that the victim is a brother of Frank Bull, 1831 Loomis street, was denied by Mr. Bull today, who declared that the description does not tally with that of his brother.

The police are investigating a story told by Martin Hoff, who says he believes the victim is a young man whom he met in a north side saloon yesterday and who told him he was employed by the Burlington railroad.

As soon as passenger train No. 48 reached Grand Crossing the police were notified and they in turn notified Undertaker William Dwyer. Both hurried to the scene and the body was removed to the undertaking parlors where it will be held for a few days awaiting identification.

Coroner L. Kleeber, accompanied by Detective William Fitzsimmons, left for North Junction this morning and conducted a thorough investigation.

Mr. Kleeber accounts for the turning of the pockets by saying that the victim probably had his hands in his pockets and the force with which the hands were jerked out when the train struck him, resulted in the pockets being turned inside out.

WILSON RECOVERS

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Nov. 26.—President-elect Wilson seemed completely recovered today from his attack of indigestion. He has bought theater tickets for Thursday night to see a performance of "Our Mutual Friend," and will play tennis and take tea Saturday at the governor-general's residence.

TO MEET DEBS

GIRARD, Kan., Nov. 26.—Fred Warren and J. I. Shepard, indicted with Eugene V. Debs, recent socialist candidate for president on charges of obstructing justice, will go to Terre Haute Saturday to confer with Debs on their forthcoming trial, it was stated today.

TO CALL THREE WITNESSES

SEDALIA, Mo., Nov. 26. — The state will examine only three witnesses in the trial of Mrs. Pansy Lesh, who has confessed to poisoning two women here, when she was a child, it was stated today.

GIRL WEDDED IN JEWELED HOSIERY

WASHINGTAN, Nov. 26.—Fifty dollar stockings—white silk affairs, set with sparkling brilliants—were part of the bridal apparel worn today by Miss Laura Merriam when she married James F. Curtis, assistant secretary of the treasury. The stockings were the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leiter.

Last spring the engagement of Miss Merriam, who is a daughter of the former governor of Minnesota, to Representative Theron E. Catlin of Missouri was announced. Later society heard that Representative Catlin and Curtis had talked things over with the result that the engagement was terminated and the two men started in anew to see which could win Miss Merriam's affections. Curtis won.

CHRISTMAS SEALS ON SALE FRIDAY

Associated Charities to Raise Fund for the Visiting School Nurse

PLAN A VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN

4,640 Children Examined by Nurse in Nine Months According to the Report

The annual sale of Christmas seals will open Friday according to the announcement of E. S. Hebberd, president of the Humane society and Associated charities. Under the direction of the special committee appointed to supervise the campaign, the work will be carried on during the next few weeks with a vim calculated to set a record for La Crosse.

Fifty per cent of the proceeds from the sale of Christmas seals will go to the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association and the remainder will be utilized by the Associated charities in paying the salary of the school nurse. All donations received will be used exclusively by the local organization. No provision for the payment of the school nurse having been made by the city it devolves upon the Associated charities to raise the required fund.

The committee in charge of the sale of seals is preparing for one of the most vigorous campaigns ever carried on in this city and expect to succeed in labeling a large amount of outgoing mail with the Christmas seals.

The report of Miss Alice Pattee, school nurse, for the nine months preceding November follows:

Calls at schools	232
Children examined	4640
Children needing attention	1891
Home calls (a)	848
Talks on hygiene	20
Calls to doctors' offices	75
Operations—
Tonsils and adenoids (b)	66
Glasses fitted (c)	55
Cultures taken at school	40
Cultures taken at home	45
No. of cases of diphtheria discovered at schools (c)	5
No. of cases of diphtheria discovered at homes	1

(a) These calls were made at the homes to impress upon the parents the necessity of having the defects corrected and also to study the environments under which the children live.

(b) Children are taken to physicians according to preference of parents. Eighteen of the operations were performed gratis, the parents being unable to pay.

(c) Children are taken to oculists of the parents' selection. In a large percentage of cases examinations were made gratis and in six cases glasses were furnished without charge.

Of 85 suspicious throats examined, 40 in the schools and 45 in the homes, 9 proved to be diphtheria and were quarantined. All of these children were fully capable of infecting their classmates. It is your child that might be sitting next to a similar case in school, that is being protected from such contagion.

KOETTERS WRITES LETTER?

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—The Chicago Tribune today announced the receipt of a letter purporting to be written by "Handsome Jack" Koetters, wanted as the alleged slayer of Mrs. Emma Kraft of Cincinnati, Ohio, in the Saratoga hotel here nearly two weeks ago. The letter mailed in Chicago at 10 a. m. insisted that the woman was not murdered but that she met death by accidentally falling backward and striking her head.

REGISTER TRIAL HELD UP

CINCINNATI, Nov. 26.—The trial of officials of the National Cash Register company for alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, was susypended today as the session of the United States district court was devoted to naturalization cases. The trial will be resumed tomorrow but a recess will be ordered.

FIFTEEN DEAD IN PLANT EXPLOSION

Six of Dead are Identified in the Waukegan Starch Factory Fire

SCENT PLOT IN TWO WRECKINGS

Starch Plant and Brooklyn Sulphur Works Blown Up Yesterday Owned by Standard Oil

WAUKEGAN, Ill., Nov. 26.—A death list of fifteen was the largest admitted today by the officials of the Corn Products Refining company, whose startch plant was destroyed yesterday by an explosion and fire. They said it might be increased by other deaths of injured who are in the hospital.

Six bodies were at the morgue, positively identified. Doctors at the hospital said that three of the injured men would likely die today. Four others have small chances of recovery, they said. The number of missing was indefinitely placed at from two to five.

Dig For Bodies

Hundreds of volunteer workmen were busy today digging in the ruins while a frenzied crowd of watchers, largely composed of women, grouped about them. The debris was still so hot that effective digging was impossible. Every few minutes the workers came across bits of suspenders, shoes, or oth r wearing apparel, but it was feared the men were so completely burned that nothing but their charred bones will be recovered.

Patients in the hospital were more comfortable today. Additional bedclothing was furnished by the stores and residents of Waukegan and nurses from Milwaukee aided the worn out women of the city who worked throughout most of the night taking care of the seriously injured.

Plans were started today for a general public funeral for the victims of the disaster. The scheme was approved by all the priests in the city who have been busy since the explosion visiting the homes of stricken relative. Mayor Biddinger announced that if this plan was adopted he would request that all business in the city be suspended during the service. Among the dead was Martin Slater, superintendent of the plant. He had recently come here from Peoria, Ill., Mrs. Slater arrived here today leaving her six children at home.

The Dead

The death list at noon stood:

John Adams, 32, laborer, 452 Oak street, Waukegan.

Peter Dougela, 36, North Chicago.

Frank Stanley, 27, laborer, North Chicago.

Charles Tomalis, 35, North Chicago; died at hospital.

Joseph Zelenek, 29, Piccadilly court, Waukegan, died at hospital.

All of the known dead have relatives dependent on them.

Scent a Plot

A possible connection between the explosion that destroyed the starch plant and the wrecking of the Union Sulphur company plant in Brooklyn, both owned by Standard Oil company interests, was sought today by authorities who worked with Coroner Taylor.

It was determined today that the death list, with seven bodies already identified, would likely include five missing men when diggers finished their work in the ruins of the starch building. To this list may be added half a dozen of the injured who are in a serious condition at the emergency hospital of the American Steel & Wire company.

Everyone connected with the Corn Products Refining company plant in an executive capacity was called to testify at the coroner's inquiry.

Lack of Sense Cause

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Exercise of common sense would have averted the explosion in the corn products refining plant at Waukegan, Ill., yesterday, in the opinion of Professor Charles E. Monroe, explosive expert of the bureau of mines. "Explosions frequently come from the presence in the factory of atmosphere of finely divided particles of an inflammable material—flour, sugar, starch and the like," he said. "They may be prevented by keeping the material in chambers where it is not exposed to air while being reduced to powder. Sparks and electric currents generated by moving belts are often accountable for the explosions. The presence of electricity in such dangerous places may easily be guarded against. There is no excuse for existence in modern factories of such dangerous conditions."

THINK GIRL INSANE

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—The police today were convinced that Miss Maud Van Deusen, stenographer, who dived 250 feet from the twentieth story of the McCormick building to her death yesterday, was insane. She was suffering under the hallucination that she was not safe from dishonor, the police decided, and the sash wrapped about her body bore the words "Death or dishonor."

SUFFRAGE ISSUE IN BRITISH VOTE

LONDON, Nov. 26—The first English election with women's rights as its main issue was in progress today in the Bow and Bromley parliamentary district of London.

The candidates were George Lansbury, until recently a socialist-labor member of parliament from Bow and Bromley, and Reginald Blair, a conservative. Lansbury recently resigned from parliament because his party continued to support the liberal administration despite the fact that the liberals refused to introduce equal rights legislation.

Suffragettes have been working energetically for him and were out today.

SENTENCES GUNMEN TO CHAIR TODAY

Four Rosenthal Slayers to Die Week of January 6, Says the Judge

BIG ESCORT TO THE PENITENTIARY

Sheriff and Twelve Men Heavily Armed Take Prisoners to Train in Armored Van

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Justice Goff in the criminal branch of the supreme court today sentenced Whitey Lewis and Dago Frank, two of the four gunmen convicted of the actual killing of Herman Rosenthal, gambler, to be electrocuted in Sing Sing prison during the week beginning January 6.

Judge Goff a few minutes later sentenced the other two, Lefty Louie and Gyp the Blood, to die the same day.

An armored prison van and 26 big pistols today were ready to escort the gunmen on the first leg of their journey to join Lieut. Becker in the death house at Sing Sing.

Sheriff Harberger, himself bulging with two weapons, had twelve of his biggest assistants in the corridors of the criminal courts building while the gangsters were being brought before Justice Goff in the special term of the supreme court for sentence to the chair.

MEXICAN MINISTER RESIGNS

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 26.—The resignation of Jesus Flores Magon, minister of the interior, today was in the hands of President Madero. Learing to the action of the cabinet member was a number of disputes in which Madero's political advisers and government officials were on opposite sides. The climax came when Magon asserted that it was a question whether the latest revolution against Madero was justified. He made this statement in announcing his disapproval of a statue to Aquiles Serdan who was killed by revolutionists.

JOHN BITZER DIES OF HEART FAILURE

Well Known Resident Is Called at Age of 84; Funeral Tomorrow

John Bitzer, an old resident of La Crosse, died suddenly of heart trouble at his home late yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Bitzer was well known in this city, having lived here for fifty-two years. He came to the city in 1860. He was eighty-four years old and he was born in Herrenburg, Wurtemburg, Germany, on March 14, 1823.

Coming to America from Germany in 1850, Mr. Bitzer first settled in Philadelphia, where he was married to Catherine Elizabeth Koehle in 1857. His wife died eleven years ago. In 1860 he came to La Crosse. He was a tailor but he retired several years ago because of poor health.

Surviving Mr. Bitzer are four sons, John of Ashland, Fred of Portland, Ore., and Henry and Charles of La Crosse; eight grandchildren and great grandchildren.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, 1217 Ferry street, and at 2:30 o'clock frfom the German Lutheran church with Rev. Julius Gamm officiating at the services. Burial will be made in Oak Grove cemetery.

MORE NORTHERN DEMOCRATS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—For the first time in the history of the United States northern democrats will outnumber their southern colleagues in the house after March 4. There will be 152 northern democrats and 140 from the south in the next house.

KING'S MOTHER DIES

BRUSSELS, Nov. 26.—King Albert's mother, the Countess of Flanders, died here today of influenza. The king and queen were at her bedside.

EUROPE DECIDES GENERAL WAR IS NOT IMMINENT

Sudden Change of Opinion Switches Situation to Assurance of Peace

NO NEW DEVELOPMENTS ARE SEEN

Circumstances Remain the Same but Fear of Conflict Disappears Over Night

TURKISH ARMISTICE MAY BE OFF

Turks Balk when Allies Demand Surrender of Adrianople as Part of Peace Terms

LONDON, Nov. 26.—After several weeks' attack of "homicidal mania" in its worst form, Europe awoke today completely restored to reason.

Just what happened over night nobody could exactly understand. The change was psychological. There were no developments in the international situation. People simply went to bed last night convinced that there would be war, and got up this morning convinced that there would not.

The last editions of yesterday afternoon's papers breathed death and destruction; the morning newspapers today dwelt on the folly of the scare which yesterday had them as firmly in its grip as it held the public of the entire continent.

Situation Still Tangled

It was still agreed today that the Balkan situation is one which will require considerable straightening. There have been war scares before but none for which there was so little real reason. War scares have also fizzled before but none so suddenly.

Two agencies were blamed here today for the danger which it was believed had been averted, though by a narrow margin—diplomacy and stock market manipulators.

The idea of war was not popular with the European public. There has been no outburst of martial enthusiasm anywhere.

The common judgment seemed to be, however, that little as anyone wanted to fight, there was no escape from it. Then—millions of people at once, apparently, appeared to be suddenly struck by the same thought—"Why, after all, should we fight, if we don't want to?"

Socialists Claim Credit

The socialists throughout Europe took credit for the sudden revulsion of feeling. The proclamation issued by their international congress at Basel yesterday, they said was what accomplished it.

Some of the English newspapers agreed that the change did, indeed, follow so soon after the proclamation's issue as to suggest a connection between them.

Miltary preparations, of course, continued. Some newspapers stuck to their claims that nothing can prevent an armed clash, but they had lost their effect on the public.

Turks Balk at Terms

News from Constantinople was not so satisfactory as that from the capitals of western Europe. The termination of peace negotiations was reported imminent because the Balkan

WEATHER

For La Crosse and vicinity: Fair tonight and Wednesday; colder tonight; continued moderately cold over Wednesday.

For Wisconsin: Fair tonight and Wednesday; colder south portion tonight.

For Minnesota: Fair tonight and Wednesday; colder northeast portion tonight.

For Iowa: Fair tonight and Wednesday; not much change in temperature.

Weather Conditions

It is snowing this morning over Lakes Superior and Huron and also in northern Wyoming. Elsewhere the weather has been fair and there is but little cloudiness this morning except in the lake region and north Atlantic states. The temperature has fallen somewhat throughout the plains states and eastern Rocky mountain region. In the Dakotas and Montana the temperatures range from 16 to 26 degrees. The weather has moderated throughout the gulf and south Atlantic states but the temperatures continue below the normal for the season. Jacksonville and Tampa report a light frost this morning.

A moderate storm is over the lake region while the pressure is high from British Columbia to the gulf states.

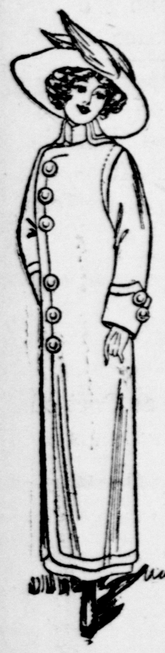

These conditions favor fair weather in this section for tonight and Wednesday with slightly lower temperature tonight and moderately low temperature over Wednesday.

HUNTERS CARRY OUT WOUNDED COMRADE

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich., Nov. 26. Terribly wounded by his own rifle and carried by hunting companions thirty miles through the woods in a blinding snow storm Sunday night to his home in Vulcan, Tony Mascot hovers between life and death at St. George's hospital.

Mascot was skinning a deer at Butler's camp and was leaning against his rifle reaching for a wire when it caught in the trigger, discharging the weapon.

The bullet entered Mascot's body about the left thigh, terribly lacerating his lungs. His companions picked him up and started for Vulcan, arriving there after a twelve hour tramp through the worst blizzard in many years. No hope is entertained for Mascot's recovery.

Carl Anderson, who was mistaken for a deer and shot near Smith Creek three weeks ago, died Monday morning in this city.

MAKES YOUR BACKACHE VANISH, DRIVES ALL RHEUMATIC PAINS AWAY

New Discovery Eases Stiff, Sore, Swollen Joints and Muscles While Backache and Bladder Disorders Disappear After Few Doses Are Taken

No matter how badly you suffer, how chronic your case may be, or what has failed to cure you, your pains will leave, your aches vanish and the torturous, killing backache or rheumatism will bother you no more.

This is what Croxone, the new scientific discovery, does for sufferers of such troubles. It cures these diseases because it reaches the cause and removes it. It soaks right in through the walls and linings of the kidneys and cleans out the stopped-up, inactive organs like water does a sponge—neutralizes, and dissolves every particle of uric acid and makes the kidneys sift from the blood all the waste matter and poisons that lodge in the joints and muscles to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism. It soothes and heals the delicate linings of the bladder and leaves the kidneys in a clean, strong, healthy condition, so they can filter the blood and keep you well.

If you suffer with backache—have pains in the neck or sides—nervous or dizzy spells—a few doses of Croxone will relieve the congestion and you will be surprised how quickly all kidney, bladder and rheumatic troubles will disappear.

Croxone is different from all other remedies. It is not like anything else on earth ever used for the purpose. Pills, tablets, and other medicines merely stimulate the kidneys, at the best, giving only temporary relief. Croxone removes the cause. It starts to work the minute you take it and relieves your suffering the very first time you use it. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. You can secure an original package of Croxone at trifling cost from any first-class druggist. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Croxone should fail in a single case.—Advertisement.

MONTENEGRO CONSUL ADMITS HIS THEFT

DULUTH, Minn., Nov. 26.—V. D. Nickolich, Montenegrin consul and representative in the United States and Canada, pleaded guilty to one of the two indictments returned against him, first degree. Nickolich has been a prisoner in Duluth since September 26, when he was arrested, accused of withholding trust funds from several estates left in his keeping.

Angels on a Needle's Point.

This was a favorite topic of debate among the scholiasts and doctors of the Christian church from the earliest time. It was particularly to the fore during the period of futile and quibbling argument which marked the decline of scholasticism, say from 1300 to 1450 A. D.

Perfect Compliment.

We please ourselves that in you we meet one whose temper was long since tried in the fire, and made equal to all events; a man so truly in love with the greatest future that he cannot be diverted to any less.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Garrison's Philosophy.

The truth that we utter is impalpable, yet real; it cannot be thrust down by brute force, nor pierced with a dagger, nor bribed with gold. . . . The cause that we espouse is the cause of human liberty, formidable to tyrants, and dear to the oppressed, throughout the world.—William Lloyd Garrison.

The trouble with flattery is that so little of it comes intact.

Things that are offered to us free are usually the dearest.

GILBERT PLAYLET VODVIL SUCCESS

Famous Sketch "Sweethearts" Ably Presented by Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Connelly

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Connelly are the main attraction at the Majestic this week in their sweet little playlet "Sweethearts." The sketch is one that has an honorable history, not only as the work of Sir W. S. Gilbert, of "Mikado" and "Pinafore" fame, but also owing to the fact that it ran a long engagement at the Prince of Wales Theater, London. Mr. and Mrs. Connelly present the pathetically humorous old sketch very cleverly indeed. Mrs. Connelly is bewitching as the coquettish little maid in the first scene, and very touching in the second. Her husband portrays the boyish lover and the rheumatic old man with equal art.

Edmund Martin's dog bandits are revelations in the way of trained animals. Mr. Martin is on the stage only to take a curtain call, and the canines go through their act without assistance. It is clever piece of work and brought rounds of applause last night.

The Otto brothers present a funny German comedian act that excells the average act of the type. They got to the audience with their first song, and their new jokes and clever "business" kept up the interest right through to the last encore.

Miss Ruth DeMar bills herself as a coon shouter. She does some very creditable character singing, and closes with a catchy rag song with an appropriate dance. Miss DeMar made a telling hit with her imitation of Miss Louise Dresser in her famous song hit, "Take a Look at Me Now." The motion pictures on the bill are of high class, there being three good dramas. "The Pirate's Daughter," is especially good.

CALEDONIA, MINN.

The Ombre Card club was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eiken on Friday evening. Mrs. D. C. Merlo and Mr. R. D. Sprague won the prizes.

Mrs. F. A. Duxbury entertained the following ladies at her Friday afternoon: Mesdames Dorival, Mangan, Merlo, A. L. Zimmerhakle, A. E. Zimmerhakl, Trask, Solberg, Zenders, Hanscom, Hundt and Miss Blanche Pope.

Philip Ellenz, formerly fire chief of the Caledonia fire department, was given a farewell party by its members Thursday evening. Mr. Ellenz and family will move to La Crosse, where they will make their future home.

THE REAL REASON FOR BRYCE'S RETIREMENT

The resignation of Ambassador James Bryce removes from the Washington diplomatic corps a unique figure. As the representative of Great Britain in this country, Mr. Bryce naturally occupied a prominent place; more than that, however, he is recognized as one of the keenest students of American conditions now living. His "American Commonwealth," first published in 1888 and recently issued in an up-to-date edition, stands as a classic commentary on our governmental institutions. Americans read this work of a foreigner to find out about themselves, probably because his outsider's viewpoint developed in him that attitude of judicial impartiality so valuable in a historian.

Mr. Bryce's resignation, reported in this country as due to the failure of the general arbitration treaty with Great Britain, has been predicted in England for some time. He had powerful enemies in the Asquith cabinet who have been demanding his removal. The reason assigned here for his retirement is good enough for diplomatic purposes, but it is not the reason. Strange as it may seem to Americans, the real reason was that he was too popular in the United States. His political opponents continually asserted that because he was so well liked here and because he in turn had such an innate sympathy for and understanding of Americans distinctively British interests were not defended in Washington as they should be.

It was the theory in London that Mr. Bryce should have been on the ground during the preliminary discussion of the Panama canal toll issue and have thrown his influence against the action finally taken by congress. That no effort which Mr. Bryce could have made would have changed the result is certain to Americans, but to the British public it seems that he could have prevented the diplomatic complications which have followed. This chief point point of criticism has been harped on in the British press until many have come to believe that Mr. Bryce in taking no part in the discussion neglected his duty. The fact that he would have only aggravated the situation by interfering is lost on those who have been demanding his official head.

The loss of so sincere a friend and well-wisher will be felt in the United States. No successor is likely, for a time at least, to be such a powerful influence for friendship between the two countries.

SAVING THE COUNTRY OR SAVING WALL ST.

George F. Williams, discussing the panic of 1907, has painted in new colors the Roosevelt-Cortelyou-Morgan deal to check the panic. He says:

"What Morgan did was to pass the money among Wall street speculators, while business men who needed it were forced to go to the wall or borrow at a high rate of interest. In a time like this we want no more presidents of the United States who will take the money that has been obtained from the people by means of taxation and give it to a trust magnate for the purpose of spreading it among Wall street speculators."

Harper's takes "George Fred" to task for carping about this deal which, it says, really saved the country from disaster. But Harper's carefully avoids mentioning that this was an administrative act during the Roosevelt rule. Naturally, as it commended the plan, it couldn't be expected to let the devil get any of his dues.

Now, on the merits, we are inclined to agree with "George Fred," and so we mention Roosevelt's name in the matter. We see a vast difference between saving Wall street and saving the country. If Cortelyou had turned the national treasury over to Bigelow and the Milwaukee bank he had looted, that institution could have weathered the storm and lived to rob depositors yet unborn. But that would hardly have been "saving the country."

A Washington physician explains that by breathing through the ears we may avoid tuberculosis. What does a physician avoid when he talks through his hat?

"America is becoming more musical," says Campanari. Luckily he has never heard congress sing the "Star Spangled Banner" at the close of a session.

One of the exhibits in a breach of promise suit for $50,000 is a letter addressed to the plaintiff, beginning "Dear Lambie." Fifty thousand isn't enough.

Aeroplanes and automobiles have been used with good effect in the Balkan war. Next in order will be the introduction of the victrola.

Just as we emerge from election we are reminded to do our Christmas shopping early. Life is just one excitement after another.

The largest diamond in the world has just been discovered. Now, probably, every actress will claim that she lost it.

Pittsburg has started an anti-noise campaign. Some of its millloraires will have to stop wearing loud clothes.

An old signboard reading "W. H. Taft, Attorney at Law," is being reburnished, preparatory to being hung out at Cincinnati.

Were Caught

A dean of Westminster used to relate that a gentleman once called to tell him that he had been to the Abbey and had knelt down to pray when one of the vergers came to him and told him he must not kneel there. On asking why the verger answered:

"Why, sir, if I was to allow it we should have them praying all over the place!"

This recalls the story of a gentleman who visited a church and asked the sexton whether people ever used it for private prayer.

"I ketched two of 'em at it once?" said the sexton.

It would help some if the person who has nothing to say would say it well. Silence from such is too great an expectation.

She Wonders Why Men Shun Her!

She may be beautiful and attractive in many ways—but the delicate, discriminating refinements in her toilet are lacking.

KUCO No-Chafe POWDER

—the toilet powder of discriminating women, holds its distinctive place among the toilet requisites used in homes of refinement.

Applied to the neck, arm-pits, bust, waist—all parts of the body where the clothing rubs—Kuco No-Chafe Powder "lays" to the skin in a smooth, velvety and almost invisible film—which does not rub off, as do talcums and ordinary toilet powders.

Keeps the tenderest skin smooth and soft, comfortable and free from irritation—refreshed and sweet. Overcomes all unpleasant effects of perspiration—vanishes and prevents sunburn.

Sold by all druggists, at 25 cents a box, with revolving sifter top. To ask your druggist for Kuco No-Chafe Powder distinguishes you as a user of the finest toilet requisites, insistent upon the most immaculate of personal care.

Lung Affection Yielded To This Remedy

Anyone interested in the treatment of Consumption should get one of the booklets telling of recoveries by the use of Eckman's Alterative. Coughs, Stubborn Colds and Pneumonia may be the beginning of more serious troubles—Eckman's Alterative is the effective remedy. Read Mr. Kanaly's statement:

Saratoga, N. Y.

"Gentlemen: For five or six years I was troubled with cough and expectoration. I also had a high fever. My case was declared Consumption by my physician. I was given Cod Liver Oil, Creosote and other medicines, all without benefit.

"At Christmas time, 1906, I was not expected to live. Calling Dr. R. H. McCarthy, he advised the use of Eckman's Alterative, which I took with excellent results, and was entirely cured. I have gained in weight. I go out in all weathers and have had no cough or cold whatever. I give these facts to encourage others to use Eckman's Alterative."

(Sworn Affidavit.)

JAS. W. KANALY.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by Geo. E. Mariner, Chas. Beyschlag and other leading druggists. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia Pa., for additional evidence.—Advertisement.

THE MARRIAGE OF CAPTAIN KETTLE

By C. J. Cutcliffe Hynne.
Copyright The Bobbs-Merril Co.

Miss Emily Dubbs went to the coffee-room above, sat herself in the window, and pulled aside a corner of the blind. Outside, in the moonshine, the little strip of tidal harbor showed as clear as day, and across the pavement which led to it walked the two shabby men, arm in arm, with their purple shadows chasing them. When they got to the edge of the quay the one called Arthur sat his friend carefully on a bollard and, when satisfied that he had acquired a balance there, unpacked the newspaper parcel of clothes, and prepared to descend to a small boat whose position was shown by a mast that projected above the gunwale.

An impish inspiration seized upon Miss Dubbs, and for a moment she laughed, and then she acted upon it. She lifted the sash of the window, and, then drawing the blind still more closely toward the jamb so that only her mouth was exposed, she called out loudly for "Police," and then again for "Police," and then with a further shrill cry, exclaimed "Murder!"

The effect was sufficiently startling. The shabby man who was sitting, sprang up as though the bollard had suddenly stung him, and ran with ungainly strides up into the little town. The panic was infectious. Arthur, from below, clambered up over the string-piece, called aloud upon the name of his Maker, and followed with precipitate pace. And where they went the present writer neither knows nor cares, but can only point out that from now onward they vanish from the pages of this memoir.

Equally strange to relate, the outcry raised no further disturbance. The houses on the quay remained deaf behind their shutters, and the town policeman (if, indeed, he had heard) gave no sign, but, after the manner of his tribe, crunched stolidly along his beat, and did not seek to ram a chivalrous helm into unnecessary disturbance.

Now to begin with, Miss Dubbs was distinctly elated with the success of her alarm. Instinctively she had disliked the two shabby men, but as she had nothing definite against them, her outcry might be described as in the main experimental. The result of it startled her, and as she thought it over more, shook her.

Idly she had cried "Murder!" and the men had run as though the law itself was actually at their heels. She was a big young woman, and tightly incased in black satin which leaves small space for the more violent emotions, but she caught herself shivering. Had murder been done?

She craned out of the window, and looked up the street, and then she looked down. There was no one to call to aid, no one to consult. For one fleeting instant she thought of the little man with the big voice and the big words down-stairs, and then dismissed the idea with a poof! Then she started across to her own bedroom, hunted out an article of wool work known as a "cloud," fitted it dexterously over her masses of black hair in front of the glass, and then ran nimbly down-stairs and out into the street.

Outside she did not run, because ladies never hurry, although for one thing and another she felt monstrously inclined to do so; but she walked her quickest, and, looking behind, was thankful for the shadow that was kind enough to keep her company; and in the course of forty steps stood upon the string piece of the quay and looked down at an untidy weather-beaten boat below. On the floor of it, partly covered with a blackened sail, was a man. He was lying on his back, his face was white under the moonshine, and his eyelids were dropped but not fully shut. His red torpedo beard probably accentuated the pallor of his face.

For the moment she thought him dead, and stood there stooping over the boat, fascinated. Then her eye lighted on a ladder of iron rungs leading down from the string piece and she dropped to her knees and clambered down into the boat. She was a fine strapping young woman with a good wholesome nerve, and all of the feminine instinct for protection. She was pretty well certain that the man was dead, but she did not shrink from him. She put her hand on his head, discovered on the instant that he lived, and then for the first time felt an impulse to cry out. But she kept this back, sat on one of he boat's thwarts, gathered the man's head on her lap, and spoke to him.

In reply he groaned very, very faintly. She could just hear the sound, and leaned her ear to his lips in case he could form his last wishes into words.

"If you—could kill—that untidy fellow—Arthur—I'd be obliged to you."

"Certainly," was her brisk reply. "But for the present you must get out of this boat and come up to the house. You're near perished to death with cold. Do you think you can climb up if I help you?"

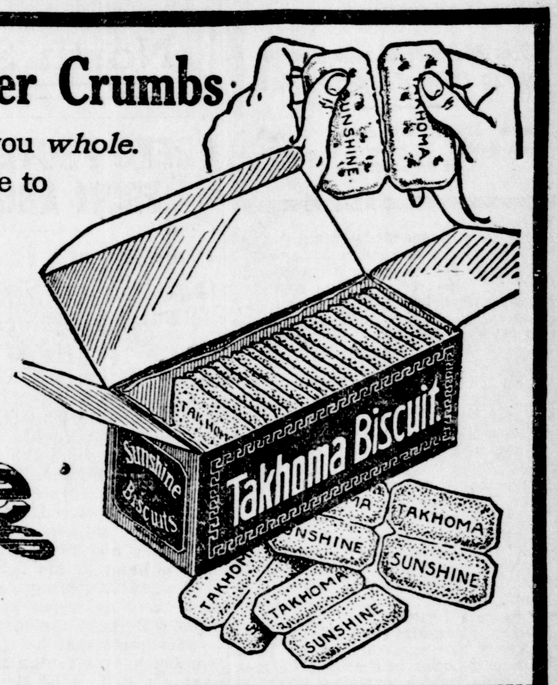

He obviously could not. He had slipped back into unconsciousness again, and her gentle shaking could not rouse him. So with an effort she took him in her arms, and then, standing up, hove him on to the string piece of the quay above; then panting with exertion and excitement, she followed to the upper level herself. And then once more whipping her arms underneath him, she carried him sturdily across the moonlit stones, and through the doorway of the Mason's Arms.

"People have no idea," said Miss Dubbs, "how careful us bar ladies have to be. People seem to think that because we can be affable with boys that come in for a glass and a chat, we're the same to everybody. I'm not denying, too, that there may be bar girls in some of the smaller establishments who are a bit common. But, in a respectable house such as this, you can bet that a girl knows her place and keeps it, and if she didn't the guv'nor would very soon show her what's what."

"I notice," said Mr. Kettle, "that you call him pa. Any relation?"

"No more'n I am to you. All the village calls him pa, and the old lady ma, for that matter, and as they seem to like it I follow their example. Relation, indeed! I should think not. My people are very different style. I don't tell it to everybody but as you are a sort of friend by now, Captain, I may tell you in confidence that my father's a minister."

"I don't see why you should say a 'sort of' friend. I know that after all you've done for me, I feel that you are about the best friend I've got. But then I suppose—"

"You suppose what?"

"You're accustomed to being kind to people."

"If you mean that I'm in the habit of going out just before quitting time, and picking up drugged young men out of boats and carrying them across here, and putting them into apartments they haven't ordered, you're mistaken."

"Kick me, and you'll find I'll take it lying down."

DOCTOR MENDS BOY'S TORN SPINAL CORD

WAHPETON, N. D., Nov. 26.—What is probably the most delicate operation ever performed in this part of the country was successfully completed at St. Francis' hospital, at Breckenridge, Saturday, when the shattered nerve fibers in the back of Eddie Spur, a 7 year old lad, were repaired and the paralysis, caused by the wound, cured.

Young Spur was accidentally wounded last week by his brother, who was lifting a 22-calibre rifle from the wall, when it was discharged.

WIFE SHOOTER ARRESTED

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 26.—Mrs. Hanna Bartelt, aged 35, was shot by her husband through the abdomen and probably fatally wounded in the Bartlet home yesterday afternoon. The bullet plowed through the liver coming out through the back. It was found in Mrs. Bartlet's clothing at the Emergency hospital.

Hugo Bartlet, the husband, was arrested in a saloon shortly before 6 o'clock last night.

In the Same Battle

A private soldier who had fought bravely during the Boer war had occasion to seek employment of a well known general. The private had had the misfortune to lose his nose while in action. The general was so tickled with the appearance of the man that he burst into loud laughter, to the discomfiture of the soldier. When his laughing had ceased the general said:

"My good fellow, where did you lose your nose?"

"I lost my nose, sir," said the nettled private, "in the same battle that you lost your head."

Another inducement to quit smoking is the worry one would save from not running out of matches. (Business of frisking our plentitude of pockets.)

Only Half

Platitudinous Person—"I suppose, my dear Mr. Gotrox, that you have used 'Make hay while the sun shines,' as your life's motto?"

Mr. Gotrox—"Certainly, sir, certainly! But that's only half of it. You should add that I made the hay from the grass other people let grow under their feet."—Judge.

Grieved Her Husband

Jimson was a little sharp eyed shoe maker, with stooped shoulders and a chin whisker, and whenever he drank too much he used to wind up by going home and thrashing his wife. She never failed to go over to a neighbor's after a session with the old man, and complain bitterly of his treatment.

After a while the neighbor grew weary of the oft-repeated tale, and remarked: "Well, you seem to like it. You always take it willingly. Why don't you pick up something and hit him with it the next time he whips you?"

The wife considered the matter, and the next time her lord began to beat her she grasped a chair and smashed it over his head. The old man fell back in stark amazement, dropped his hands and stared at her.

"Why, Mary! Why, Mary!" he whimpered. "What on earth is the matter with you! You never done this way before."—St. Paul Dispatch.

It doesn't take much applause to be interpreted as an encore by one prepared to come back.

This Should Keep The Baby Healthy

When it is ill don't become alarmed but give this fine laxative

It is often difficult to tell just what is the matter with a crying, peevish baby or child too young to express its feelings in words, but as a general rule the mother will find that there is a tendency to constipation, which has brought on a headache or nervousness. The little one has no pain, but feels "out of sorts."

The first thing to try is a family rembedy containing good but mild laxative properties, and many mothers will say that their choice would be Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Thousands of mothers keep it in the house for such emergencies, among whom may be mentioned Mrs. Jennie Manuel, mother of Master Manuel, Altamont, Ill., and Mrs. Lewis Huff, Dowagiac, Mich. They and others are glad to say that Syrup Pepsin saved them many an illness and many a large doctor bill, for by administering it promptly, when the first symptoms of illness were noticed, they prevented a serious ailment.

It is so pleasant-tasting that no child will refuse it, and as it does not gripe, the child is glad to take it again. A bottle can be obtained of any druggist for fifty cents or one dollar, the latter being the size bought by families already familiar with its merits.

Syrup Pepsin is for all the family from infancy to old age, and because of its mildness families should prefer it over all other remedies. It is absolutely safe and reliable. You will never again give cathartics, pills, salts or such harsh physics, for they are usually unnecessary, and in the case of children, women and elderly people are a great shock to the system, and hence should be avoided.

MASTER MANUEL

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 413 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.—Advertisement.

This Home-Made Cough Syrup Will Surprise You

Stops Even Whooping Cough Quickly. A Family Supply at Small Cost.

Here is a home-made remedy that takes hold of a cough instantly, and will usually cure the most stubborn case in 24 hours. This recipe makes a pint—enough for a whole family. You couldn't buy as much or as good ready-made cough syrup for $2.50.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. This keeps perfectly and has a pleasant taste—children like it. Braces up the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps end a cough.

You probably know the medical value of pine in treating asthma, bronchitis and other throat troubles, sore lungs, etc. There is nothing better. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

The prompt results from this inexpensive remedy have made friends for it in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada, which explains why the plan has been imitated often, but never successfully.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

SEEKS PROTECTION FROM ANGRY SON

Promise of Black Eyes Sends North Side Man to District Attorney for Help

A promise from his son, Lester, that "he would give him two black eyes tonight" caused Otto Gunderson, bartender at the Combination, to apply to District Attorney James Thompson for protection today. Mr. Gunderson declared that he had no doubt that his son could and would carry out his threat unless the law took a hand in his family troubles.

"Lester is twenty years old," he said, "and he works at the rubber mills. He told me last night when I came home that he would give me two black eyes tonight. I had been having a little good time and he did not like it. He is a pretty smart boy and he could do what he promised pretty quick."

He declared that the boy took the part of his sisters and mother in a little family altercation and that while he did not want to have him placed in jail for carrying out his threat he preferred to prevent him from carrying it into execution.

Mr. Thompson gave him a letter to his son warning him that the law did not look lightly upon such methods and Mr. Gunderson went away satisfied that the son's bluff had been called.

STEADY NERVES

A Priceless Possession but Impossible When the Blood Is Out of Order.

If you are nervous, always tired out and run down, impure blood is probably the cause. If you are pale, sleepless, irritable, have no ambition, suffer from headaches and backaches, you may be certain that the blood is at fault. Impure blood does more to hasten disease, unfit you for work and shorten life than anything else.

The man or woman whose blood is filled with impurities should remember that good, pure blood means health. Through the aid of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People health is within your reach. They go straight to the blood, cleansing it of all impurities and giving it the elements which it lacks. For a good appetite, healthy color, health and strength, they have no equal. What these pills will do when given a thorough trial is shown in the case of Mr. George A. Herrick, of No. 57 Clarendon street, Boston, Mass., who says: "I recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People because they helped me when nothing else did. I was taken sick and called a doctor. He said I was all run down. He doctored me for six weeks or more, but I did not improve. I had no ambition or life. My appetite was poor and I was weak and could not work. I suffered from headaches, had no color and my heart action was very poor.

"I was so nervous that the slightest thing annoyed me and so cold most of the time that I almost froze. I could hardly walk down town. A friend called me to the telephone one night and asked me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Out of curiosity I bought a box. In a short time I began to improve and soon was back at work. My gain was almost beyond belief. Now I enjoy better health than I ever have and can stand exposure and hard work. I believe they are the greatest blood-builder and nerve tonic there is."

For anæmia, chlorosis, rheumatism, after-effects of the grip and fevers, stomach trouble and all forms of general debility, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People should be given a thorough trial. A booklet, "Building Up the Blood," which is free upon request, will show what these pills have done.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes, $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

SPOTLIGHTS

"THE THIEF"

"The Thief," Henri Bernstein's story, tells how a wife pilfered 6,000 francs to buy finery, under the mistaken notion that if she were gowned as well as the most fashionable of her sex, she would be the more certain of retaining the love and admiration of her husband.

The cast now playing is uniformly good. Miss Marion Sherwood plays the part of Marie Louise Voysin, the thief, with definite understanding, especially in the trying scenes of the second act, where her husband, Richard Voysin (Jack Emerson), discovers that she and young Fernand Lagardes, is the real thief. Little is required of Harry Kline in the last named character, but he does it well. R. Lazear Wilbur gives a satisfactory delineation of Raymond Lagardes, and pleasant things may be said of Barry Townsley as M. Gondoin, known as M. Zambault, the detective, and Miss Lena Chase as Isabella Lagardes.

LEE WINS FIRST PRIZE IN PIN GAME

In a bowling match in which the veteran bowlers took part at the Combination bowling alleys last evening, Otto Lee won the first prize with a score of 157, while A. Yehle was second with 105, and Mahlum was a close third with 102. The scores were as follows:

Mahlum 102, Gale 82, Gunderson 85, Augdahl, 100, Lee 157; Yehle 105, Bollrud 72.

Squirrels' Instinctive Gift.

Squirrels, it is said, know how to judge distances accurately, for they seldom jump two distances alike, yet never fail to land safely when an inch too far or too short would mean disaster. And dogs run along beside horses' heels, judging accurately the safe distance, and are seldom, if ever, injured.

Ancients Knew of Elevators.

That the ancient Romans knew how to works lifts is the latest discovery reported from Rome in connection with the Palatine excavations. Pre-Romulan remains have been found, including 12 ancient lifts. It gets right at the root of the trouble, cleanses, heals and strengthens the raw, sore membranes, stops the nasty discharge so that you are not constantly blowing the nose and spitting. In a few minutes after applied you can just feel it doing its work of clearing the head, the pain and soreness are relieved, the breathing becomes natural and the stuffed up feeling is gone. This cleansing, healing, antiseptic Balm contains no mercury, cocaine or other harmful drugs. It is easy to apply, pleasant to use, and never fails to give relief, even in the worst cases.

Never neglect a cold, and don't suffer the miseries of catarrh nor disgust your friends with your hawking, spitting and foul breath. Get a 50 cent bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist, and start the treatment at once. You will find that it will be the best investment you ever made. Agent, O. T. Erhart.—Advertisement.

Big Piles of Books Claimed

Large Shipment to Satisfy Dictionary Demand—They are Going Rapidly

Every day now is Dictionary Day at The Tribune office.

Such a demand marked the opening of the distribution of the New Modern English Illustrated Dictionary that the success of the popular educational venture is assured, and more books are being rushed here by the carload.

Do not delay to reach the Dictionary department, before the entire edition of the most modern dictionary is exhausted.

Start clipping the required six consecutive coupons today.

Be sure that you accept no substitutes.

These valuable books are being distributed through this newspaper only. If you cannot come, write your order, inclosing coupons, expense bonus and 22 cents postage.

Do not accept the inferior substitute works which jealous book dealers are trying to foist on the public as "The Tribune Dictionary," or as a "just as good as" brand. Get the new edition with the complete vocabulary and big colored plates and the latest United States census. There are no others like it.

Crowds clamored for the flexible leather-bound volumes known as No. 1 from early in the morning until late in the evening yesterday. Many professional men filed along in line between stenographers and school girls. Doctor, lawyers and clergymen all seemed anxious to possess the handsomely bound black leather volume which looks like a fine Bible and which they describe as "comprehensive" and above all else "handy."

"I've got plenty of dictionaries," a prominent physician said who came with two sets of coupons and carried away two dictionaries, one for his home and one for his office, "but this is the handiest one that I've seen. I'll use it 10 times as much as I use the others. I've read The Tribune for years, and I expect to keep on reading.

"Young lady, don't bother showing me that book," an old man said. "I've read your paper for years and I have faith enough to take your word for it. If you say the book is right, it is right, and I know it. Give it to me."

"I am surprised at the extensive vocabulary this book contains," an educator said. "It even has the modern slang which has come to be everyday English with us.

While the demand for dictionaries was keeping the clerks busy, covetous dealers in many parts of the city "got busy" with their dusty old volumes of ancient editions of Webster's and started to try to attract trade by offering them in exchange for Dictionary coupons and a price which was every cent the books were worth.

Be sure your dictionary is the latest and contains the latest United States census. Be up-to-date.

BIG JOES DROPS 3 STRAIGHT GAMES

In a postponed series the Bromo-Seltzers won two out of three games from the Big Joes at the Combination bowling alleys last evening and as a result the Bromo-Seltzers retain the lead in the Merchants Bowling league. The games, which were witnessed by a large crowd, were close and interesting throughout. The Big Joes won the first game but the Bromo-Seltzers came back strong winning the next two. The Big Joes received a handicap of 90 pins. The scorees:

BROMO-SELTZERS
Niemeyer	137	194	151
Wiskirchen	149	194	169
Lund	146	107	169
Hayes	167	180	150

Here's Two.

A famous philosopher was discussing truth. "There are three times," he said, "when a man is justified in telling a falsehood. They are, first, to a woman; second, for a woman; and third—well, I forgot the third."

One way to keep a friend is by letting him keep his money.

Every time a pessimist dies people forget to miss him.

PUBLIC DEBATE

Should the report circulated in La Crosse (Wis.) Tribune, dated 22nd., of Nov., 1912, be duly verified that Denver (Colorado) constabulary have had their revolvers confiscated, then it clearly demonstrates the utter incompetency of Denver Fire and Police commissioners, because anybody who reads the newspapers can learn of the numerous train hold ups and robberies that are daily occurring and an unarmed patrolman or detective would be utterly helpless against an armed desperado who usually carries automatic weapons.

The great trouble is that Yankee people become easy victims to the newspaper "Sob Artist," as the reporter for pathetic stories is professionally termed.

Remember Mr. Editor, that a patrolman without his Derringer, would be as helpless as a doctor without his stethescope, or a violinist without his bow.

If such a blundering order be in effect then every honest police officer (irrespective of rank) on the Denver Police force, should tender the city council his resignation.

Mark you, Ye Scribe, any law to be effectual must have the necessary physical force behind it, and you are totally handicapping police officials when you remove their weapons!

In certain mental diseases corporal punishment has been found effectual.

You teach a child what pain is by striking it as it strikes you, and then it discovers that a blow received is not so funny, thereby enforcing the scriptual injunction "Do unto others as ye would that others should do unto you."

Christ himself used a scourge of knotted cords to drive away the temple trespassers.

It is easier for a police commission to issue laws sitting down in a council chamber, than it would be to help patrolmen in suppressing a street rowdy disturbance.

A judicious use of the mace and revolver would be most effective in numerous precincts and localities and an officer should never hesitate to use either for his own protection or that of his colleague.

Away with this mollycoddling of crooks and disorderlies.

The order issued to troops in the United Kingdom and Ireland is to "fire right into a crowd not over their heads!" As troops of police do in this country, which naturally accounts for so many "innocent bystanders" in the distance being shot down.

Yours Most Respectfully,

Insane Asylums.

The great Greek physicians had devoted much attention to insanity, and some of their precepts anticipated modern discoveries, but no lunatic asylum appears to have existed in antiquity. In the first period of the monastic life a refuge is said to have been opened for the insane at Jerusalem, but this appears to have been a solitary instance, arising from exigencies of a single class, and it may be said that no lunatic asylum existed in Christian Europe until about the time of the fifteenth century.

GOLD DUST

removes grease quickly from pots and pans

Cleaning the pots and pans and kettles is usually a most disagreeable piece of work, but like everything else there is an easier way to do it, if one knows how.

As soon as the food is removed, pour in water and dissolve in it Gold Dust in the proportion of one tablespoonful to a gallon of water.

Leave to soak while washing the dishes, then pour off the water and fill with clean suds made in the same way. If particles of food still adhere to the inside of the utensils, use potrings for removing them.

Gold Dust is sold in 5c size and large packages. The large package means great economy.

TO HAVE IMPORTANT JOB AT BIG FAIR

Captain A. C. Baker.

Captain Asher C. Baker, U. S. N. retired, will be the director of exhibits of the Panama-Pacific exposition, which will be held at San Francisco in 1915. He was named for this position by President Charles C. Moore.

In making the appointment President Moore had in mind Captain Baker's unusual experience and important services in general exposition affairs. The director of exhibits was connected with the Chicago exposition in 1893, the Paris exposition in 1900, and the St. Louis exposition in 1904. He was vice-president of the class jury, vice-president of the group jury and a member of the superior jury at the Paris exposition.

Daniel in Second Place.

Little Willie's grandmother had been telling him Bible stories, his favorite being that of Daniel in the lions' den. At the age of four he was taken to a circus for the first time. When the lion-tamer put his head into the lion's mouth little Willie's excitement knew no bounds. Jumping up and down, he gleefully screamed: "O my! That knocks the spots off Daniel!"

Give Good Cheer.

There is contagion in a sweet and beautiful character, for health is contagious as well as disease. We are all the time giving to others either wholesome or unwholesome moods—poisoning their atmosphere with doubt and suspicion or clearing it with helpfulness and good cheer.—Phillips Brooks.

Others Could Tell Him.

"Have you any object in piling up wealth? Perhaps you have an ambition to gratify. Is there anything you want to do?" "There is. When I am fixed financially I propose to see if there is really any money in the chicken business."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Question of Economy.

He—"We must economize. Suppose, darling, that you try your hand at making your own clothes?" She—"Oh, George, dear, I could never do that. Suppose I begin by trying to make yours?"

SOCIETY

SURPRISE PARTY

Miss Helen Boyle, 1210 Caledonia street, was pleasantly surprised at her home Saturday evening, it being her eleventh birthday. Those present were Pauline Roberge, Harriet Stephenson, Lorna Mulder, Edith Tuttle, Rachel Fjelstad, Leah Mattax, Mildred Gibson, Violet Shutter, Kathrine Sokolik, Eunice Van Berg, Mae Miller, Irene Pierce, Edith Eberhart, Irene Knudson, Dorothy Figgie and Verna and Helen Boyle. The prizes were won by Irene Knudson and Rachel Fjelstad.

ENTERTAINS CLASS

Mrs. Earl Wheaton entertained her Sunday school class of thirteen third grade little boys Saturday afternoon. The time was spent in singing and playing games. Supper was served at 5 o'clock, after which the little guests departed, all saying they had a very enjoyable time. Those present were Lester Cameron, Forest Egan, Russel James, Carson Kimble, Mervin Ott, Symar Howland, Charles Green, Eldon Mulder, Alfred Miller, John Mattax, Henry Ristow, Gage Staats and Lester Wheaton.

W. B. U. DANCE TUESDAY

The W. B. U. club will give its third annual Thanksgiving dance Tuesday night. This is their last big dance until Christmas. A great many old students will be returning to La Crosse to spend their vacations and judging from the number who have written in to tell they were coming to the dance, the alumni will be well represented.

Good music has been secured and light refreshments will be served. Dancing will commence at 8 o'clock sharp.

The W. B. U. football team will play the high school at Mondovi on Thanksgiving and although several members of the regular team cannot go, the boys intend to put up a good fight.

A meeting was called for the basketball players and the largest squad in years turned out. The W. B. U. will probably have at least two teams.

The W. B. U. begins its Thanksgiving vacation Wednesday, after which the basket ball teams will be organized.

MISSION STUDY CLASS

The Mission Study class of the First Congregational church was entertained yesterday by Mrs. James Vincent at her home on Cass Street. Mrs. J. E. McConnell had charge of the lesson which was upon China. Mrs. Bunge, Mrs. Cowles, Mrs. Yearly and Mrs. C. L. Colman all read interesting articles upon schools and education in China.

Mrs. Homer Cotton gave a violin selection with piano accompaniment by Mrs. F. E. Nurse which was greatly enjoyed.

LADIES SEW FOR THE CHRISTMAS SHOP

Mrs. Homer Hart, Jr., entertained a few ladies yesterday afternoon to sew for the Christmas shop, which will open its doors to the public December 3 in the parlors of the First Congregational church. A 6 o'clock supper will be served in connection with the shop.

Mrs. George Burton entertained at a luncheon today, the ladies present all working for the Christmas shop.

FAREWELL PARTY FOR MISS MABEL NICE

Miss Emma Engler entertained at a farewell party in honor of Miss Mabel Nice, who will leave here Friday for her future home in Minneapolis. Miss Nice was presented with a pretty string of pearls. She leaves here with the best wishes from the R. V. D. club of which she was a prominent member.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE

A stereopticon lecture will be given at the parlors of the German Baptist church tomorrow evening by Rev. Autritt of Winona. Rev. Autritt will take as his subject "The Apostle Paul," and all members of the church and friends are invited. No admission will be charged. The lecture will begin at 8 o'clock.

CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY

Nathaniel Pittinger, father-in-law of J. E. Keizer, income tax assessor, celebrated his ninetieth birthday at the Keizer home, 1249 West avenue south, yesterday with a party at which members and friends of the family were present. Considering his burden of years Mr. Pittinger is in excellent health and his anniversary celebration was an altogether happy event. Among the out of town guests were the following: His son, Abraham Pittinger, and granddaughter, Mrs. George Weston of Centerville, Wis.; brother, Melvin Pittinger, of Trempealeau, and Mr. and Mrs. Clark Bradley of Bangor. Mrs. Bradley is Mr. and Mrs. Keizer's daughter.

No, Cordelia, your husband's brain fag is probably not due to thinking of you while you were away during the summer.

A HAPPY CHILD IN A FEW HOURS

Mother! Look at the tongue! see if it is coated. If your child is listless, drooping, isn't sleeping well, is restless, doesn't eat heartily or is cross, irritable, out of sorts with everybody, stomach sour, feverish, breath bad; has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, Sore Throat, or is full of cold, it means the little one's stomach, liver and 30 feet of bowels are filled with poisons and clogged up waste and need a gentle thorough cleasing at once.

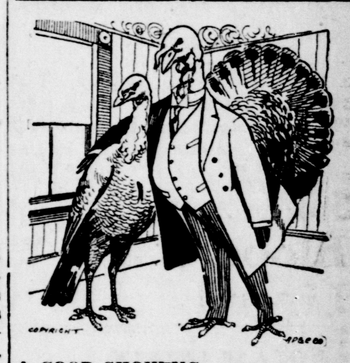

Give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs, and in a few hours the foul, decaying constipated matter, undigested food and sour bile will gently move on and out of its little bowels without nausea, griping or weakness, and you will surely have a well and smiling child shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging your children, being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics it cannot be harmful, besides they dearly love its delicious taste.

Mothers should always keep Syrup of Figs handy. It is the only stomach, liver and bowel cleanser and regulator needed—a little given today will save a sick child tomorrow.

Full directions for children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious tasting, genuine old reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

Hair Mussed by Lightning.

Edward Kones prefers in the future to comb his own locks and wishes lightning would leave them alone. When his house, in Sullivan county, was struck the electricity plowed small furrows about his skull, taking the hair off his head in every place it touched. His injuries, besides destroying his hair, it is said, were slight.—Philadelphia North American.

"Murder" Among Animals.

Murder is not uncommon among animals, "murder" in this sense being applied to that kind of killing that has nothing to do with the struggle for existence, but which arises from malice, pure and simple, or from downright passion. Storks, it seems, frequently kill members of the flock which, at the time of migration, either refuse to follow them or are unable to do so.

Prognostics.

The Cinnamon Scimitar's financial editor writes: "The dental profession is looking down in the mouth. With the scavenger, however, everything is picking up. The steeplejack's business, if he is not careful, will be falling off. In the automobile and railroad line everything is running down. The sausage and scrapple trade is on the pig. With the astronomer, however, things are looking up."

Change Comes Slowly.

A love letter, a cure for toothache and a complaint of a bad boarding house, according to a contemporary, were found in excavated writings 4,000 years old. The same old world!

SUFFRAFE DEFEATED?

WOMEN INSIST THAT MAJORITY AGAINST AMENDMENT WAS SECURED BY FRAUD IN THE MICHIGAN COUNT

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 26.—That the woman's suffrage amendment has been defeated in Michigan was the result indicated by the returns from all but a few counties of the state today. The majority was 723 against it. The suffragists insist that there has been crookedness in counting the ballot in several counties, and will demand a recount. They declare they have been defrauded of about 3,000 votes.

STANDARD MAY WIN

OIL TRUST NOT ALONE IN FIGHT TO PREVENT BEING OUSTED FROM FATHERLAND

BERLIN, Nov. 26.—Passage of the government's bill to put the Standard Oil company out of business in Germany by creating a state controlled oil monopoly appeared far from certain when the reichstag met today.

Many legislators were said to accept as true the Standard's contention that Germany cannot get enough oil without buying from the American concern, which might retaliate for its expulsion from the fatherland, it was pointed out, by refusing to sell or by adding heavily to present prices. Aside from this it was complained that the government's bill affords too little protection to consumers.

The government's representatives will introduce the measure at once, however, and work desperately for its passage, amending it if necessary to meet the views of such of its opponents as can be converted by that means.

BRINDLEY TEMPERS JUSTICE WITH MERCY

Judge John Brindley yesterday suspended sentence in two cases, gave a third man his freedom on probation and sentenced a fourth to but ten days in the county jail. All were found guilty or admitted their guilt.

Leo Masuth admitted the theft of two rings from Ed Roar, but was given his freedom upon promising to reform, because of his youth.

Fred Schroeder and Carl Whittenberg pleaded not guilty to vagrancy, but were found guilty by the judge upon hearing the testimony. Both have families depending upon them for support, which led Judge Brindley to suspend the forty day sentences which he imposed upon them.

SPORTSMEN ATTEND BIG DINNER TONIGHT

The first annual game dinner of the La Crosse County Hunting and Fishing association which will be held at the Hotel Doering tonight will be a huge success if the demand for tickets is an indication of the attendance. It is expected that as many as can be accommodated will be present according to President A. T. Rasmussen today. Several good speakers have been obtained to give five minute talks on subjects of interest to hunters and fishermen. Owing to the fact that the committee desires to surprise the banqueters the program will not be announced until this evening. A big deer buck will be the "piece de resistance" at the spread. The banquet will begin at 7:30.

Pasha Shot by Own Man

BELGRADE, Nov. 26.—That Fethi Pasha, the Turkish corps commender, found dead several days ago, on Monastir battlefield, was killed by one of his own subordinate officers for attempting to flee, was asserted by Turkish prisoners of war here today.

In his effort to make himself as inconspicuous as possible, Fethi had changed clothes with a private soldier, the prisoners asserted, and the officer, mistaking him for one of the rank and file, first called to him to return to the firing line and shot him dead when he disobeyed. On discovering his mistake, it was said the officer committed suicide.

Fethi, as a matter of fact, was found in a private's uniform.

Prochaska Appears

VIENNA, Nov. 26.—The foreign office received a telegram from Uskub, Albania, this afternoon announcing the safe arrival there of Austrian consul Prochaska, who has been missing since the Servians captured Prizrend from the Turks. If it is true that Prochaska is safe and has no story of ill treatment to tell, one of the most serious grounds for touble between Austria and Servia have been removed.

Constantinople Quiet

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—That conditions in Constantinople are improving and the city is absolutely quiet was reported to the state department today by Ambassador Rockhill. One of the Austrian vessels, the dispatch stated, had been withdrawn from the Turkish capital.

Major Ford of the United States army medical corps, and Hoffman Philip, secretary of the embassy were reported to be leading relief work in the San Stefano cholera camp.

BERLIN, Nov. 26.—"We are not so optimistic as to believe a general European war impossible," said a high official of the foreign office here today, "but we do not believe it is probable."

Germany, among other powers, was understood to be urging Turkey, through the kaiser's diplomatic representative at Constantinople, to do everything possible toward reaching an agreement with the Balkan allies and permanently restoring peace.

Trouble of some sort—it was not certain whether anti-foreign or anti-government—was reported to have broken out at the Turkish Aegean seaport of Dedeaghatch. At latest accounts the French cruiser Jurien was on its way to the scene from Constantinople.

11 TO 1 FOR ACQUITTAL

GIBSON JURY DISAGREES AND IS DISCHARGED — WILL ANSWER GRAND LARCENY CHARGE

GOSHEN, N. Y., Nov. 26. — The jury in the case of Attorney Burton W. Gibson, accused of the murder of Mrs. Rosa Szabo at Greenwood Lake last July, reported to the court at 11:20 that they had disagreed and there was absolutely no chance of their reconciling their differences. Justice Tompkins, after conferring with the foreman, announced that the jury was discharged.

It was stated on apparently excellent authority that the jury stood 11 to 1 for acquittal. Through the night the vote had been 9 to 3, it was said, but two changed. The twelfth juror, however, declared under no circumstances would he vote for acquittal and when this was communicated to the court the judge decided to discharge the jury.

It was stated that while Gibson was remanded to jail it is unlikely that he will be tried again in this county. He will probably be taken to New York for trial on the indictment returned against him there yesterday charging him with grand larceny.

ESCH IN POW WOW WITH WINNEBAGOES

Congressman John J. Esch held a "pow wow" with several representatives of the Winnebago Indians of the Seventh district yesterday, at which proposed legislation in which the Indians are interested was discussed. Among the things desired by the Indians is a change in the time that the government annuity is paid. This annuity which amounts to about $20 a person, is now paid in February and the Indians desire to have it paid in the fall. They say that the delay in payment often results in hardship to them in the winter months.

Congressman Esch told them that the reason the date of payment had been changed to February was because most of the Indians had money in the fall which they had earned during the summer, and if they were paid their annuity in the fall improvident members of the race would be sure to suffer before the winter came to an end, whereas if they were paid in February it came when their own earnings were about gone.

Another matter discussed is the proposed division of the fund the interest on which pays the annuity, between the Indians in Wisconsin and that part of the tribe that is located in Nebraska. The Indians desire this fund to be divided and apportioned among them.

SUIT AGAINST RAILROAD

The La Crosse and Southeastern railroad is the defendant in a $10,000 damage case this afternoon in circuit court in a suit brought by John Wilhelm, special administrator of the estate of J. A. Wilhelm, of Viroqua, who was killed in Coon Valley by a train last summer. George Gordon is attorney for the defense while Frank Winter is attorney for the complainant. The case of Della Allen against Dr. Ralph Allen is the next on the calendar and will probably be tried tomorrow morning. Della Allen is suing Dr. Allen, who was sentenced to the penitentiary two weeks ago by Judge E. C. Higbee, for a divorce and part of his property.

LOCAL VICTORY NOT TO BE PROTESTED

Superintendent McNeel of Fort Atkinson Schools Denies Rumors of Protest

CALLS IT POOR SPORTSMANSHIP

Regrets that Rumors of Protest Were Started Because of Loss of Game

Proof that Fort Atkinson does not intend to protest the game in which the high school football team of that city was beaten by the local highs here on November 2, was received here this morning when Professor B. E. McCormick, principal of the high school, received a letter from W. McNeel, superintendent of schools at Fort Atkinson, in which the latter said that no such action had been taken. Mr. McNeel states that under no circumstances will the game be protested.

Milwaukee papers published a story some time ago to the effect that Fort Atkinson was going to protest the victory of the La Crosse team over their eleven because of the fact that the officials were local men, that one of the La Crosse men was over 21 years old and because the crowd went on the field thus hiding local players on forward passes. This story was not credited here because no word in regard to the matter had been received from the Fort Atkinson high school.

A clipping of this story was sent to Fort Atkinson and Superintendent McNeel's reply was received this morning, and he denies that anything of this kind was ever contemplated. He says the rumors show poor sportsmanship and he regrets that the incident occurred.

He says that it is to be regretted that a defeat cannot be accepted without saying that a square deal was not received and the sentiment of the school and the majority of the townspeople is not in favor of this.

This makes it evident that the stories regarding the protest did not come from the Fort Atkinson high school but that they came from some other source as was thought here.

Following is Mr. McNeel's letter:

"Fort Atkinson, Wis.,
"Nov. 25, 1912.

"Principal B. E. McCormick,
"La Crosse, Wis.

"Dear Sir: I have your letter of November 22 with the enclosure of a clipping from a Milwaukee paper. I regret more than do you the publication of this article which gives strong evidence of the lack of true sportsmanship on the part of the writer.

"It is to be regretted that we cannot experience defeat here without giving rise to that cowardly excusatory, 'We did not get a square deal.' I want you to believe that that is not the sentiment of our school and I hope of a majority of our townspeople. Under no circumstances will the game be protested.

"Any comment on this article that has been published in your local papers will be replied to by you in the spirit that I hoped to convince you we possess. You may be free to use my name in such a particular.

"Yours very truly,
"W. M'NEEL."

No odds how bad your liver, stomach or bowels; how much your head aches, how miserable and uncomfortable you are from constipation, indigestion, biliousness and sluggish intestines—you always get the desired results with Cascarets and quickly, too.

Don't let your stomach, liver and bowels make you miserable. Take Cascarets tonight; put an end to the headache, biliousness, dizziness, nervousness, sick, sour, gassy stomach, backache, and all other distress; cleanse your inside organs of all the bile, gases and constipated matter which is producing the misery.

A 10-cent box means health, happiness and a clear head for months. No more days of gloom and distress if you will take a Cascaret now and then. All druggists sell Cascarets. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

NEGRO HELD IN CASE

COLORED MINISTER IN JAIL FOLLOWING SUICIDE OF WHITE GIRL EMPLOYED AS HIS STENOGRAPHER

JOPLIN, Mo., Nov. 26.—J. N. Brownlee, a negro minister, is held in jail here today under a special guard, following the suicide of Pearl Nugent, a 17 year old white girl, who was employed by Brownlee as a stenographer.

The girl was found dead in Brownlee's office. She had swallowed poison. Another negro, said to have been a frequent visitor to Brownlee's office, is also held in connection with the case.

Friends of the Nugent family say that the girl's father did not know she was employed by a negro.

An inquiry into the case was started today and as a result of evidence, which it is expected will be the evident arrest of other negroes is anticipated. Several white girls have also been summoned to testify at the inquiry. Those investigating the case declared that negroes have lured white girls to Mr. Brownlee's office and that startling revelations will be made.

Feeling against Brownlee has reached a high pitch and the authorities are proceeding with the utmost caution.

DISCARD CONSTITUTION

SUFFRAGETTES SEND OLD RULES TO WASTE BASKET AND APPOINT COMMITTEE TO DRAFT NEW ONES

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26.—The old constitution which has governed the national suffrage organization for years was assigned to the waste basket at today's session at Witherspoon hall. Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the body, herself suggested that the old constitution be discarded in favor of a newer and more up to date document. A motion was made to that effect by Mary G. Hall of Illinois and carried unanimously.

A committee of five will be appointed by the executive commitee later to draft a new constitution.

The convention, which has been in session since Thursday, will end today.

Resolutions demanding the enfranchisement of all women, a single standard of morality, abolition of traffic in women, and the settlement of all disputes by arbitration were passed unanimously at the final meeting of the convention this afternoon.

ESCH TO SPEAK THANKSGIVING DAY

With the Hon. John J. Esch giving the address instead of the usual sermon, Rev. Geo. R. Longbrake announces an exceptionally helpful and attractive Thanksgiving day service at St. Paul's Universalist church. The program will begin promptly at 10 o'clock, which hour has proved so popular and satisfactory the two preceding years, giving the people ample time to enjoy their engagements for the day. Miss Florence Hermann will be heard with the violin, Miss Alma Hosely and Mr. Emil Niemeyer will render a vocal duet, and Prof. Leland Widrick will preside at the organ. The order of praise and worship will be appropriate for the occasion.

DROWNS UNDER AUTO

BAY CITY, Mich., Nev., Nov. 26.—Pinned beneath an overturned automobile at the bottom of the Saginaw river, John Noble, 19, was drowned here early today. Abraham and Arthur Bailey, brothers, narrowly escaped a similar fate. The trio were traveling at a high rate of speed in the auto as they approached a bridge over the river. The draw was open and the chain barriers up, but the machine plunged through the obstructions.

CORNS CUT—CALLS POLICE

RACINE, Wis., Nov. 26.—A Polish saloonkeeper on the Bowery was responsible for a riot call Monday morning when he yelled through the telephone that a "nigger" was slashing him to pieces. When a squad of policemen arrived on the scene the victim had quieted down somewhat but was still bleeding from the cut which proved to be nothing more serious than a deep incision in one of his toes, the "slasher" being an itinerant corn doctor of African descent.

Blackstock, Sheboygan; William G. Bruce, Milwaukee; B. P. Manoureaux, Beaver Dam; J. A. Vail, Beloit; H. W. Bowens, Port Washington.

At a meeting of the directors the following officers were elected: H. W. Bowens, president; H. H. Hirshheimer, La Crosse, vice president; Frank J. Fendenner, Neenah, treasurer. S. C. Bolles of Milwaukee, resigned as a director and Frederick Robinson of Racine was elected to succeed him.

FOGEL RESIGNS HIS JOB

PRESIDENT OF PHILADELPHIA NATIONALS QUITS HE ANNOUNCES AT MAGNATES' MEETING

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—At a meeting of the National baseball magnates, Horace Fogel of the Philadelphia Nationals, who was to have been placed on trial for making charges against President Lynch and his staff of umpires in a newspaper article published in Chicago, announced that he had resigned as president of the Philadelphias. It was stated that his successor has been chosen in the person of A. B. Wieler, the present vice president.

The National league presidents immediately took a recess for one hour out of respect to the memory of Mr. John T. Brush. Whether they would go ahead and try Fogel despite his retirement was to be decided when they reassembled.

E. J. STEINMETZ WEDS MILWAUKEE GIRL

E. J. Steinmetz, of the firm of Stringer & Steinmetz, cigar dealers, and secretary of the local lodge of U. C. T., was married this morning to Miss Mayme Hahn of Milwaukee. The wedding took place at the home of the bride in that city. The bridegroom is well known and popular among the younger set of this city. He went into business with Mr. Stringer here about a year ago. The young couple will make their home in La Crosse after a short honeymoon in the east.

RUSHFORD, MINN.

Saturday evening last there occurred a quiet wedding at the home of Rev. Jaastad, the contracting parties being Miss Ella Rostvold and Mr. Seth Rislove, both of this city. The young couple are well known here and have a large number of friends who wish them much happiness.

Last Friday there occurred the marriage of another of Rushford's fair ladies, Miss Lillie Maland, the happy groom being Mr. John Fesvold of Slayton, Minn. The ceremony, performed by Rev. Jaastad, at the home of the bride's father, M. A. Maland, was witnessed by immediate relatives only. The bride is a graduate of Rushford high school, also of the Winona normal and for some time past has been a successful teacher. The happy couple will visit at Minneapolis for a time before going to their future home at Slayton, where the groom is cashier in a bank.

Although over eighty years of age Mr. Erdman of Hart vicinity, was forced to go to La Crosse last Tuesday to have one of his feet amputated as gangrene had developed, a result of an injury. It is sincerely hoped that the operation may prove successful.

Two other residents of Rushford have been forced to submit to operations at La Crosse, Mrs. Sterle Phillips having been operated upon for gallstones last Wednesday, and Mr. W. W. Beers having to submit, it is expected, to an operation.

S. Phillips has purchased of Mrs. Reinart her fine residence property near the bluff and will take possession shortly. Financial consideration for the property was $1,800.

Last Wednesday evening the Royal Neighbors' camp here was a busy one, a class of twenty-two ladies being admitted. This is the largest class ever taken in at one time since the camp started almost twelve years ago. After the mysteries of initiation a delicious luncheon was served, after which cards and other games were played until nearly midnight.

The intermediate class of the Presbyterian Sunday school, who have formed a club which meets weekly, will hold a bazaar at the Elite theater the day after Thanksgiving, November 29. Home made candy will be sold and also numerous fancy articles and aprons suitable for Christmas gifts. The ladies of the Presbyterian church will also serve luncheon at the same time and place. The class which holds the bazaar deserves much praise for their faithfulness in attending their weekly meetings and for their zeal and energy in preparing for the sale.

Mrs. George Austad of Peterson was the guest last Thursday of her sister, Mrs. Olaf Johnson of Ferry street.

A force of carpenters are busily engaged in remodeling the Severn Johnson house on South Ferry street, the property having been purchased by Mr. Hatling of Choice vicinity, who will move into town next spring.

Carl Sundby, who has a claim in Canada, has gone to spend the winter there.

A jolly crowd of ladies gathered at the home of Mrs. John Akre of Stevens avenue last Monday evening and surprised Miss Bena Hagen with a parcel shower. A mock marriage kept the guests in a gale of laughter and not until midnight did the merry makers depart for their respective homes.

Miss Bertha Johnson of Los Angeles, Cal., is endeavoring to locate her sister who married a German, a stone mason by trade, who is thought to live near Rushford. Any information will be gladly received by August Sevenson, R. F. D. 3, Rushford.

Fred Cottrell, who some months ago severed his connection with Drake's harness shop and took up land in Dawson county, Mont., has returned for a short visit here and speaks enthusiastically of the soil and climate around Circle, Mont.

Miss Olga Foss, who for almost nine years has been employed at the Star-Republican office, has resigned her position there and left last Monday for Hettinger, N. D.

Miss Lundblad and Miss Judith Tagland have returned from Bucyrus, N. D., where they have land.

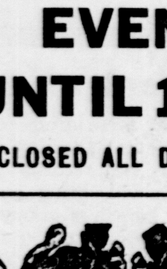

Miss Mildred Eldred, who has been enjoying a vacation from her duties as nurse in a Chicago hospital, has been visiting her parents here and is now at Baraboo, Wis., for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Ed Hallihan, before returning to work.

Miss Matilda Skoog, who has been trimmer at Miss Foss' millinery parlors for several months, has returned to her home at Minneapolis. Her many friends will be glad to know she intends to return again next spring.

Miss Wilmer's reading will be the second number of the Lyceum course, being given next Wednesday, November 27.

Rev. Banthy will hold Thanksgiving services at the Presbyterian church at 10:30 next Thursday.

A Shine In Every Drop!

Black Silk Stove Polish is different. It does not dry out; can be used to the last drop; liquid and paste one quality; absolutely no waste; no dust or dirt. You get your money's worth.

Black Silk Stove Polish

is not only most economical, but it gives a brilliant, silky lustre that cannot be obtained with any other polish. Black Silk Stove Polish does not rub off—it lasts four times as long as ordinary polish—so it saves you time, work and money.

Don't forget—when you want stove polish be sure to ask for Black Silk. If it isn't the best stove polish you ever used—your dealer will refund your money.

Black Silk Stove Polish Works, Sterling, Illinois.

Use Black Silk Air Drying Iron Enamel on grates, registers, stove pipes, and automobile tire rims. Prevents rusting. Try it.

Use Black Silk Metal Polish for silverware, nickel, tinware, or brass. It works quickly, easily, and leaves a brilliant surface. It has no equal for use on automobiles.

Why French Women Always Look Young

("Aurilla" in Society World.)

In France mothers and daughters look like sisters. I tried to find out how the women were able to retain their youthful looks till long past middle age. I learned that they were much given to the use of mercolized wax. This wax possesses a remarkable absorbent property which quickly removes the fine particles of cuticle which are constantly dying and which are the immediate cause of an old-looking complexion. Thus the livelier, healthier, younger skin beneath is given a chance to breathe and show itself. I've tried this treatment myself. In less than two weeks my complexion has become as clear, soft and beautiful as a young girl's. Just one ounce of mercolized wax (all American druggists have it) did the work. The wax is put on nights like cold cream and washed off mornings.

Another valuable secret I learned from the French was how to quickly removes wrinkles. One ounce of powdered saxolite dissolved in a half pint witch hazel, makes a marvelously effective astringent lotion. The face should be bathed in this daily until the deepest lines have entirely disappeared. — Advertisement.

NO MORE DANDRUFF,
NO MORE FALLING HAIR
HERPICIDE

Nearly everyone has dandruff, and must reconcile themselves to the idea of becoming completely bald or resort to the use of Newbro's Herpicide.

The manufacturers have absolute faith in Herpicide to kill the germ and remove all traces of dandruff. So perfect is this belief that all dealers are instructed to sell the preparation with a "money back" agreement.

Such supreme confidence is the best evidence in the world of the merit of Herpicide. They know the result, hence the guarantee. It protects the purchaser.

Used as directed, Newbro's Herpicide kills the germ that causes dandruff and prevents the hair from coming out. It stops itching of the scalp, which is so disagreeable.

Send 10c in postage or silver for sample and booklet to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich.

Applications may be obtained at good barber shops.

Newbro's Herpicide in 50c and $1.00 sizes is sold by all dealers who guarantee it to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded. Hoeschler Bros., special agents.

Pretty Compliment.

The Disraelis were visiting Strathfieldsaye in the time of the old duke of Wellington. Going up to the bedroom, Disraeli found his wife and her maid moving the bed from one side of the room to the other. When he inquired the reason, his wife said: "Well, my dear, the duke sleeps on the other side of the wall, and if I lie against it I can boast that I have slept between the two greatest men in England."—San Francisco Argonaut.

Slow Coach.

A gentleman was one day, in the old coaching times, traveling by a coach which moved at a very slow pace. "Pray," said he to the guard, "what is the name of this coach?" "The Regulator," was the reply. "And a very appropriate name, too," said the traveler, "for I see all the other coaches go by it."

DIES SAVING ANOTHER

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Thomas Walsh, running to save a fellow workmen under a falling derrick at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Evanston, today, was himself struck on the head and instantly killed. Conrad Daugherty, whom Walsh tried to save, was seriously injured.

An Italian, whose name was not known by his fellow workmen, jumped to safety, but an arm of the derrick caught the back of his coat, tore his clothing off, leaving him standing with no garments but his hat and shoes.

HIGH COST OF LIVING

Most Serious Problem of To-day, Due Largely to Sickness. Read This Letter.

Clifton Mills, Ky.—That the high cost of living is due largely to sickness, especially among the women folk, no one can doubt, but in the following letter from Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of this place, it is brought more forcibly home to us. "Before I began to take Cardui, the woman's tonic, my back and head would hurt so bad, day and night, I thought the pain would kill me. I was unable to attend to any of my household duties.

I had only taken three bottles of Cardui, when I began to feel like a new woman. Within a few months I gained 35 pounds, and now, I not only do all my own housework and washing, but, most of the time, run a big water mill, while my husband runs the farm.

I wish every suffering woman would give Cardui a trial, for I am sure it would help them, as it has me."

At an expense of $3.00 for three bottles of Cardui, Mrs. Woods regained her health, and is now able to attend to the numerous duties, which, formerly, she either had to hire done, or neglect, thus increasing her cost of living.

Lady reader, are you suffering from any of the ailments so common to your sex? Wouldn't it be worth a few dollars to you to feel well enough to look after your daily work?

Try Cardui.

N. B.—Write to: Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64 page book, Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.

CROWDS GREET DANTE'S INFERNO

The return to La Crosse of the Dante Inferno pictures filled the La Crosse theater to capacity last night. The pictures are superior to those shown last spring as the present set of films is brand new and in perfect condition, there being absolutely no "rain" or imperfections usually seen in films that have been run for some time.

When these pictures were shown here before there was a great deal of comment as to their being "fakes," etc., people not realizing that they are not supposed to be pictures of a place or condition, but that they are simply a remarkable pictorial dramatization of one man's version of the Inferno. Edmond Dante wrote his great poem in the thirteenth century, and were it not for the motion picture, millions of people would still be in ignorance of the nature of his great work. It required three years of labor and the expenditure of an immense fortune to produce the pictures, but the producers have been repaid many times for their efforts. The pictures are entertainingly lectured by Prof. J. F. Cubberly, and will be shown here for the last time tonight

SAYS M'GOVERN MAN IS NEEDED

T. G. Mahlon Asks Support for Speakership to Get Harmony in the Assembly

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 26.—That the speaker of the assembly must be in harmony with the governor to get results, is the statement made by Assemblyman T. J. Mahon in letters which he has sent out to assemblymen-elect asking their support in his candidacy for speaker. Just why the speaker has to be in harmony with the governor any more than the lieutenant governor, or president pro tem of the senate, Mr. Mahon does not explain. He contends, however, that the next session of the legislature will not have proceeded far before his statement will be apparent to the members.

Efforts are being made by the leaders on the La Follette side to prevent republican members-elect from pledging themselves to any candidate. That this is being done is admitted by Secretary E. J. Dithmar of the republican state central committee, a strong La Follette man. Mr. Dithmar claims that this should be done so that the "ideal man" for speaker can be chosen when the members meet at Madison in January.

There is another indication that the La Follette forces are massing for a set to with Gov. McGovern and if they succeed in electing the speaker, as is the general opinion among politicians, he is certain not to be very much in harmony with the governor. Incidentally it might be said that Lieut. Gov. Thomas Morris, who presides over the senate, and Senator Henry C. Martin, who will be the president pro tem of that body, are intense La Follette supporters so that if there was harmony in the assembly through the election of a speaker who was a friend of the governor the senate would be in the hands of the other side spelling discord, according to Mr. Mahon's argument.

Old members of the legislature say, however, that given a speaker of firmness and good executive ability he will get results in the lower house whether he is in accord with the governor or not.

The Woman in the Case.

"Digby, you are worrying about some woman." "Biffles, I am." "I knew it! She is constantly in your thoughts." "I can't get her out of my mind." "I wouldn't dream of asking you to tell me her name." "I have no objections to letting you know her name. It is Mrs. Pruner, my landlady. I owe her for six months' board."

Never call a man a liar unless you have a strong right arm with which to back it up if necessary.

Winter Aids to Beauty

(By Mme. D'Mille)

"If the eyebrows are thin and 'washed-out' looking, they can be made to come in darker and longer by gentle massaging with plain pyroxin. Applying pyroxin to the lashes with the finger tips will make them grow long and lovely.

"Dainty complexions suffer from cold winds and wintry weather. The best protection is a lotion made by dissolving a package of mayatone in a half pint of witch hazel. Rub this over the face, neck and arms in the morning and it will hold all day. It is a true beautifier and does not rub off or show like powder. Mayatone makes the skin soft, smooth and white and prevents growth of hair.

"Mother's Salve gives almost instant relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, colds in head or chest and is a sovereign remedy for catarrh. It should be on every woman's dresser.

"Superfluous hair on face or forearms can be quickly and painlessly removed. Make a paste with a little delatone and water, cover the hairs, permit to remain two minutes, wipe off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone.

"Washing the head exposes one to catching cold, and too much moisture dulls and deadens the hair therefore dry shampooing is growing in popularity among women who know. Mix four ounces of powdered orris root with a package of therox, sprinkle a little of this mixture on the head, brush out, and your scalp is clean, and your hair wavy, lustrous and easy to do up. Therox energizes the hair roots."—Advertisement.

FIRE SWEEPS OVER NORTHWEST PLAINS

KIMBALL, Neb., Nov. 26.—Details of the prairie fire that swept over thousands of square miles in northwestern Nebraska and southern South Dakota are arriving here today. Scores of farms are reported denuded of all improvements. The loss of livestock and feed was heavy.

In Banner and Kimball counties, Neb., practically every available man was called out to fight the flames. A conservative estimate places the loss in these two counties alone at $100,000.

Did it ever occur to you that nearly all of your mistakes are self-made!

WILBURCOCOA Bread Pudding

¾ cup Wilburcocoa, 4 cups milk, 1½ cups brown sugar, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon butter, 1 tablespoon granulated sugar. 8 thin slices bread, all crust removed.

Mix the Wilburcocoa with the cold milk until smooth, add one-half the brown sugar and the well-beaten yolks of eggs. Brush bake-dish with butter; cut the bread in dice and place in bake-dish; pour over the Wilburcocoa and milk, cover with the remainder of brown sugar, butter and dust with the cinnamon; bake in moderate oven one hour. Beat the whites of eggs until dry, add one tablespoon granulated sugar; spread over the top of pudding, rough with fork and dust with pulverized sugar; put in cool oven five minutes or until light brown.

Wilburcocoa makes many dainty desserts, cakes, candies and puddings that are wholesome, easily prepared and of great food value. "Cooks' Tours Through Wilburland" tells you how. Get it from your grocer who sells Wilburcocoa, or write us for a copy.

GERMANY SCHULZ QUITS COACHING

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 26.—Gloom was thick at the State university when it was announced today that Germany Schulz, the coach of the line on the Badger team the past two years, had resigned to accept the management of an automobile concern in Fort Wayne, Ind. No word could be gotten from Schulz, as he has not yet returned to Madison from Iowa City. The athletic department stated that no resignation had been received from him, but the members of the team were told before they left for home on Sunday that he would no longer be with them.

Schulz is an old Michigan player, being picked as an All-American center by Walter Camp when he was a member of the team. He has coached the line on the Wisconsin team the past two seasons with marked success, and it is due largely to his work that the team has gotten on so well last year and this.

Director Ehler announced today that Head Coach Juneau had been recommended by the athletic council, which means that the great Badger leader will again have charge of things next fall.

LETTER TELLS WHY LEADER WAS FIRED

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 26.—Rober Bresnahan's statement as to the reasons given for his discharge as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals was set forth on Monday in a letter, attoroneys for the deposed manager have prepared to submit to the directors of the National league.

Bresnahan's letter states that Mrs. Helen Hathaway Robinson Britton, chief owner of the club, told him that she had decided to change managers because she did not believe he had "tried hard," and stated the "club has not made nearly as much money as it did in 1911."

Mrs. Britton also said she believed Bresnahan had lost his popularity with the St. Louis fans, the letter declares.

FRED ZEISLER

Star high school player who will appear at fullback in the Sparta-La Crosse football game at League Park Thanksgiving day. Zeisler has been playing a great game all year and as he has been doing consistent work in the backfield he is counted upon to be a good ground gainer when he is called on to carry the ball on Thursday.

FRANK CHANCE MAY GET HIS RELEASE

Frank Chance is to hove fair treatment at the hands of the Cincinnati club, which recently secured his release from Chicago for the waiver price. Garry Herrmann, the president of the club, is out with a statement that in the event of Chance not desiring to play ball any more he will give him his unconditional release, which means that he will be a free agent, for it is not likely that any of the other clubs in the league will refuse to waive on him. Herrmann's statement regarding Chance is taken to mean that he has no intention of installing the former leader of the Cubs as manager of the Cincinnati team, though he would give him a chance as a player should he decide to try his hand at this end of the game again. This, however, is hardly probable, for, having been a successful manager, Chance would hardly want to fall back into the ranks.

MILLER SELLS OUT BUSINESS TO SON

The firm of August Miller and son, broom manufacturers, 109-111 South Front street dissolved today, August Miller disposing of his interests to his son, Albert Miller, who will continue the business. Mr. and Mrs. August Miller and daughter Clara, will leave for San Antonio, Texas tomorrow where they will spend the winter.

THORPE WILL QUIT SCHOOL THIS WEEK

WORCESTER, Mass., Nov. 26.—Because of his dislike of notoriety which his athletic prowess has brought him, Jimmy Thorpe, the famous Indian athlete, announced today that he intended to sever his connection with Carlisle, after the Indians play Brown Thanksgiving day.

The Continental Clothing Store will be open Wednesday evening until 10 p. m. Closed all day Thursday, Thanksgiving day.

HIGHS DETERMINED TO BEAT SPARTANS

Old Rivalry Between Locals and Sparta Evident and La Crosse Wants Victory

SEILER'S TEAM IS WORKING HARD

Red and Black Eleven to Be in Good Condition for the Final Battle

The high school football team is putting in these last few days before Thanksgiving into hard preparation for the Sparta high school gridiron warriors on "Turkey Day." Every man is putting forth his best efforts to win this game not that it has any bearing on the state title but because it is with the old rival. To win this game is as good as winning the championship of this state and several others to the individuals on the team and the students of the school.

Way back in the days when football was in its primitive stage the football stars of these two schools used to go up against each other on Thanksgiving day as regular as could be. Some years the local men would win and then again Sparta would have Dame Fortune on her side. Then in came "Runt" Jefferson and spoiled things as he seemed to be a hoodoo for the locals and during the four years that he played his team always won. Then when he was gone the locals again won, but a new Runt Jefferson has come into the Spartan's ranks in a brother of the original and they say that he is as great as the former.

The local football men this year are not as easily frightened as were those men of old and to watch them work in preparation for this game is a pleasure. Every man is straining every muscle that he may be ready to charge into the ranks of the invaders and literally sweep them off their feet. Coach Seiler is not in the least lenient with them either for he realizes that it will require all the football knowledge that he can drive into the heads of the men to make them do as they promise to do.

The old flame of rivalry has died down into embers but the students at the school are gradually fanning it into a flame that promises to grow larger than any ever before. Mass meetings are being held and all the talk between the classes and on the streets is of the coming game with Sparta. The Spartans are not dormant either as they have already sold 250 tickets in their school and are clamoring for more. They will bring down fully 300 rooters to cheer their warriors on to victory and it is now up to the local people to get out and do the same for La Crosse.

YALE TO LOSE 4 GRIDIRON STARS

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 26.—By graduation Yale this year will lose Spalding and Philbin, halfbacks, Bomeisler, the great end, and Gallauer. The rest of the team will be back next year, so that Yale will have exceptionally good men to start the season.

The next captain undoubtedly will be Ketcham, the center. He has played two years on the team and last year was all-American. This year he has played even better than last so there is no question of his being it again.

The crowd Saturday was the largest that has ever attended a Yale game and the receipts were in the neighborhood of $70,000 for Yale and Harvard to divide.

WANT MICHIGAN IN THE CONFERENCE

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 26.—University of Wisconsin students have started a movement for the readmission of Michigan into the western conference. Petitions were circulated this morning calling upon the athletic council to request the faculty to use its offices for the resumption of an alliance with the Michigan university. Sentiment of Wisconsin students is known to be in favor of this plan. The incubus of the movement was made at a secret meeting of the university men at Chicago Saturday night.

GIANT OWNER DIES ON WAY TO HEALTH

John T. Brush of New York Nationals Passes Away on Private Car Last Night

DEATH IS SHOCK TO HIS FRIENDS

Was Known to Be Ill but Thought Climate of Southern California Would Heal Him

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 26.—The private car Oceanic, bearing the body of John T. Brush, president of the New York National league club, who died of locomotor ataxia last night on his way to California arrived in St. Louis early today. At noon the car was attached to a Pennsylvania train and the body will be taken direct to New York. At Indianapolis Mrs. Hempstead, a daughter of the dead baseball magnate, will board the car.

President Brush died about midnight. His car, attached to a Chicago and Alton train was between Louisiana and Mexico, Mo., when the end came. Two nurses, a valet and a representative of the New York Central lines were traveling with Brush and were with him when he breathed his last. On reaching Mexico, the car was cut off from the westbound train and hurried back to St. Louis. The eastbound and westbound trains meet at Mexico and there was no delay.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The news of the death of John T. Brush, head of the New York Nationals came as a distinct shock to his hundreds of friends here. A fortnight ago he was reported dying, but he seemed to have a change for the better, and, although known to be desperately ill when he left here Sunday night, it was expected his malady would yield to treatment, and the salubrious air of southern California. While ill for years, it is believed here that the compelling cause of death was an automobile accident the baseball magnate was in on September 11 last. At that time, an automobile, in which he was riding collided with a big automobile truck and was thrown against the sidewalk and overturned. Brush had two ribs broken and was badly shaken up. Since then he has been in a serious condition and has been out of his house only occasionally.

John Tomlinson Brush was born in Clinton county, N. Y., of Scoach-Irish descendancy. Orphaned when four years old he was brought up by his step uncle, working on a farm until twelve years old. He worked as a boy in a country store in Clintonville, N. Y., and afterward went to Utica, where he was given a partnership in the clothing firm of Owen Pixlay & Co. Later he opened clothing stores in Troy and Lockport, and still later in Indianapolis. While in the latter city he became president of the National Exhibition company and finally chief owner of the New York National league baseball club. Brush was a thirty-third degree Mason, a member of many clubs here and in Indianapolis, and was married to Miss Elsie Lombard in 1904.

It was expected that the meeting of the National league, called to investigate the charges brought against President Fogel of the Philadelphia Nationals would be postponed indefinitely because of the death of Brush.

The Continental Clothing Store will be open Wednesday evening until 10 p. m. Closed all day Thursday, Thanksgiving day.

NORGREN CAPTAIN OF MAROON TEAM

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Nelson H. Norgren was elected captain of the 1913 University of Chicago football team by the unanimous vote of his teammates this afternoon. The star right halfback of the team completes his third and final year as member of the varsity team next year.

Cold Coming? Go To Your Doctor

You may cough tomorrow! Better be prepared for it when it comes. Ask your doctor about keeping Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house. Then when the hard cold or cough first appears you have a doctor's medicine at hand. Your doctor's approval of its use will certainly set all doubt at rest. Do as he says.

WOMAN CHAMPION ARCHER A SUICIDE

Miss Julia Sullivan, Noted Athlete, Shoots Herself in Room in Boarding House

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Miss Julia Sullivan, aged 42, champion long distance shot in archery in the United States, also holder of several championship medals for ice skating in Canada, shot herself through the heart today in her room at 364 East Fifty-ninth street. Miss Sullivan was the first woman chauffeur in Chicago.

In their investigation of the suicide, detectives held, without making a charge, Mrs. J. E. Lob, proprietress of a South Wabash avenue boarding house, who was in Miss Sullivan's rooms at the time of her death. Mrs. Lob said that Miss Sullivan asked her to stay with her because she was lonesome. She had left the room for a few minutes early today, she said, when she heard a shot. Running to Miss Sullivan's bed she told the detectives she found her dead, the revolver lying beside her.

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis.

Several real estate deals of importance were transacted in this city during the past week. The C. B & Q. Railway company purchased fourteen city lots along its right of way in the Third ward from John Powers. The company had previously acquired property along the track and it is thought this may mean the establishment of a passenger division terminal at Prairie du Chien. This city is already a C. B. & Q. freight division terminal.

The Sisters of Notre Dame have purchased from the Keogh Excelsior company the lots lying south and west of their present holding at St. Mary's Academy and the old fort hill. The tract contains six or seven acres. The Fourchette homestead on Bluff street with ten acres of land was sold a few days ago to John Nugent. Mr. and Mrs. Fourchette will give possession this week and leave Wednesday for St. Paul, where they will make their home with their daughter, Mrs. Gokey.

J. H. Peacock is having a garage constructed at the rear of his lots on Church street.

A second story is being added to the laundry building at the old sanitarium to provide extra sleeping quarters for the employees.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brower expected to leave early in December to spend the winter in Beloit with their daughter, Mrs. J. W. Brunton.

Dr. and Mrs. R. M. White entertained the doctor's father a few days the past week. Mr. White left Saturday afternoon for his home in Freeport, Ill.

Mrs. N. G. Sage is spending a few days with friends in Chicago.

Miss Cleora Garrow spent Friday in Dubuque.

Advice to Alpine Climbers.

In the earlier part of the nineteenth century many even of those who had been up Alpine peaks themselves denounced the sport. Regarding the ascent of Mount Blanc, Murray's Handbook in the year 1838 stated that "all who have succeeded have advised no one to attempt it," and nearly 20 years later noted the "remarkable fact that a large proportion of those who have made this ascent have been persons of unsound mind."

Prevention of Mildew.

Nothing should be stored in a damp condition on account of mildew, which is a vegetable growth, being a kind of fungus, which quickly spreads, and is very difficult to remove. To remove it from flannel ether is best to use. For mildew on cotton material, damp the part, rub soap thickly on, cover with powdered French chalk and put in the sunshine, and keep repeating the process until the spots disappear.

Thief-Proof Umbrella.

An umbrella made thief-proof by being locked in such a manner that it cannot be opened has been invented by a London cloak-room attendant, the locking device consists of a metal collar, one end of which may be slipped down over the rib-tips, and is securely locked to them by revolving the three metal rings. These rings bear the letters and numerals of the secret combination.

New England Romance.

From Boston comes the story of a touching phonograph romance. The manager of a store became infatuated with the voice of a young woman whose singing he heard reproduced frequently in the machines, wrote to her for her pictures, and the acquaintance speedily ripened into marriage. The bride, by the way, was intending to study in Paris for grand opera, but has decided to settle down in New England.—San Francisco Argonaut.

Best Exercise.

The best kind of exercise is the kind that makes you forget you are exercising—in other words, play, says a physician. It's a good scheme to have some more or less strenuous game for a hobby—golf or bowling or tennis or archery—anything that appeals to you and affords exercise with interest. But this is not saying that systematic exercise is not a good thing, too.

A house where you live is always a great deal hotter in summer than it would be if you didn't live in it.

The DOCTOR'S ADVICE by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply to any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Ellwood Sts., Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

"Gertrude' writes: "Can you prescribe a remedy for catarrh. I suffer constantly with headache and pain across my eyes. My breath is very bad which annoys me greatly."

Answer: For catarrh and bad breath I always recommend the use of antiseptic Vilane powder. Ask your druggist for an original 2 oz. package of antiseptic Vilane powder. Make a catarrh balm by mixing a level teaspoonful of the powder with one ounce of vaseline, or lard will do just as well, and use as far up as possible in the nostrils several times a day. Then take a pint of warm water, one-half teaspoonful of the powder and use as a snuff from the palm of the hand. If these directions are followed you will soon be cured of this dreadful disease.

* * *

"Maud" writes: "Can anything be done for an itching scalp. My scalp is also covered with dandruff and I as in great distress."

Answer: You can very easily be cured of an itching scalp, also dandruff if you will get a 4 oz. jar of plain yellow minyol and use according to directions given on the jar. Two or three applications have been known to cure. Try it fairly and you will advocate its use to your friends.

* * *

"Ellen K." writes: "I am not fleshy enough. I should weigh 20 pounds more. I am ashamed of my thinness and wish to become plump and attractive. Can you help me?"

Answer: Yes, I can help you "Ellen K." and many others in the same plight. A thorough course of treatment with three grain hypo-nuclane tablets will gradually give you more red and white blood corpuscles, adding to your weight, health and color, giving you pink cheeks, red lips and sparkling eyes. These tablets are packed in sealed cartons with directions. Do not expect results too quickly. It takes time to change the cells and tissues of the body, but you can depend on gaining weight if you are persistent.

* * *

"D. E. F." writes: "If you know of anything that I could take to cure my rheumatism, please tell me as I suffer all the time. Am getting worse all the time."

Answer: Take the following and you will soon be cured of your rheumatism. This is the best remedy that I have ever known for this trouble. Iodide of potassium, 2 drams; sodium salicylate, 4 drams; wine of colchicum, ½ oz.; comp. essence cardiol, 1 oz.; comp. fluid balmwort, 1 oz. and swrup sarsaparilla comp. 5 ozs. Mix by shaking well and take one teaspoonful at meal times and again at bed time.

* * *

"Helen" writes: "Can you give me a reliable remedy for coughs and colds? My cough is so tight that I am afraid of pieumonia "

Answer: The tightest cough can be loosened in one hour by using the following: Get from your druggist a 2½ oz. package of essence mentholaxene and make according to directions on bottle. This will break up any cold and loosen the tightest cough and soon cure by its laxative tonic action.

* * *

"Henry" writes: "If you can prescribe anything that will cure my stomach trouble and constipation, please do so. My breath is bad and I am irritable and cannot sleep."

Answer: You can be very easily cured of your troubles by taking tablets triopeptine. This is the most scientific and satisfactory treatment for the stomach and if taken according to directions you will soon be able to eat a hearty meal and not have any distress afterwards. Your constipation will be cured and your whole system will be put in a fine condition.

* * *

"John" says: "What can I do to gain an appetite? I do not eat and am getting thin and weak. Please advise a remedy."

Answer: The best tonic that I know of is made by mixing 5 ozs. of syrup of hyphophosphites comp., and 1 oz. tincture cadomene comp. Mix by shaking well in a bottle and take a teaspoonful before each meal. You will soon gain flesh and your appetite will return.

* * *

"A. L. T." writes: "I am constantly embarrassed by my excessive weight. I have tried exercise and diet but they do not help. If you know of some harmless and effective medicine please publish."

Answer: To reduce your weight get 5 ozs. of aromatic elixir and 1 oz. of glycol arbolene. Get these two ingredients separately to avoid any substitution. Mix and take a teaspoonful for three days after each meal, then take two teaspoonfuls. This is a perfectly harmless and sure remedy for obesity. Many women have written that they reduced their weight a pound a day after the first week

* * *

"Geraldine" writes: "I am troubled a great deal with headache, dizzy spells, dark spots before my eyes, twinges of rheumatism. Can I be helped at all?"

Answer: You can not only be "helped" but you can be "cured" of all the troubles you mention You need three grain sulpherb tablets (not sulphur) which are packed in sealed tubes and contain full directions for use. They are made of sulphur, cream of tartar and herb medicines. If these are taken regularly they purify the blood, stimulate the liver and bowels into healthy action and will gradually effect a cure.

* * *

"Mother"—Bedwetting in children is usually a disease which can be cured by the use of the following: Tincture cubebs, 1 dram; tincture rhus aromatic 2 drams; comp. fluid balmwort 1 oz. Mix and give the child 10 to 15 drops in water one hour before each meal. Send $1.00 for Dr. Baker's book on Health and Beauty.—Advertisement.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Yesterday's advance in wheat futures was lost in today's trading, when war news from Europe told of calm on that side of the ocean, and of favorable crops in Argentine. The domestic situation was also bearish.

Corn futures displayed considerable firmness with the market moving up slightly during early trading and moving back to the previous finals on later business.

Oats futures were easy and acted heavy throughout the day.

Provisions were lower.

Throughout the afternoon session corn and wheat remained heavy. The feature was the unloading of long wheat bought yesterday by small traders and a renewal of short selling by larger ones. In the corn pit support was poor, except in December, where yesterday's heavy sellers were buyers today.

Oats simply followed the other grains.

His Flippant Thought.

"Well, George," said witty William as they met in the street, "how is Arthur going on now?"

"Oh, much better," replied George. "He has been in the country for seven days to regain his strength."

"That's funny. I should have thought seven days in the country would have made one week."—London Answers.

Thanksgiving

Here's to you and your family and your friends; we hope you'll all be together Thanksgiving Day and be thankful that you are together; that you'll be together in spirit if you are absent from each other in fact; that the feast will be good, and you'll all be happy.

We feel that we have great cause for being thankful to the people of La Crosse and vicinity, who, by their faith in us and their constant words of praise, and advocacy of our store have made for us the great success we have achieved.

BAZAAR CREDIT IS GIVEN TO PASTOR

Dr. Condon Praised by His Parish for Success of the Recent Church Fair

PROFITS BREAK ALL RECORDS

School Fund of St. Mary's Church Credited with $7,000 Net Profit

With the remarkable figre of $7,000 profit in the one week bazaar the parish gave, members of St. Mary's congregation are today jubilant over the unprecedented success of the affair. The figure far eclipses that ever made by any previous bazaar at the church, and the parishioners claim that the amount is in excess of any sum ever netted by any church affair in the city.

The announcement of the amount that would be credited to the school fund of the church as a result of the bazaar was made just before the closing night crowds went home Saturday evening. As Rev. Condon read the figures prepared by the management, the listeners tburst into cheers.

After the cheers for the bazaar itself had subsided, someone started a demonstration for Dr. Condon, which was more noisy than the first outburst. The parish is giving a large part of the credit of the bazaar to the untiring efforts and skill of the pastor. They declare that were it not for his popularity with those outside of the parish as well as in the congregation, and his knowledge of church financial affairs, the bazaar would not have netted anywhere near the big sum that now stands to its credit.

While giving all due credit to the leader of the flock, the members of St. Mary's congregation are not stinting the praise of their fellow members who served on the committees of the fair. They insist that without their earnest efforts and ready cooperation with Dr. Condon, the bazaar would have fallen short of its success. Business men who gave donations and patronage to the bazaar were thanked for their contributions to the success of the enterprise.

Among those who were in charge of the affair were: J. B. Murray, president of the men's committee; Joseph Boschert, treasurer of the bazaar fund; Will Rossiter, head cashier; F. L. Koppelberger, manager of the vaudeville show; and H. A. Nebel, Dr. R. R. Schaettle, John F. Doherty, S. J. Deingen, Prof. R. H. Butler and Dan Whalen, general assistants.

The Ladies' Aid society was in charge of the main exhibition hall, and were stationed at many of the booths. The president of this society is Mrs. S. L. McVey; vice president, Mrs. H. A. Nebel; secretary, Mrs. D. U. Murphy. The ladies were also in charge of the kitchen and dining room, under the supervision of Mrs. J. Boschert and Mrs. O'Neil.

The Wonder-well, an improvement on the old-fashioned fish-pond, was in charge of the children of the school and the sisters. The Young Ladies' sodality, which proved to be composed of indefatigable workers, took charge of the tea room, doll booths, and fortune telling and candy departments.

The "classy" decorations of the school were all the work of Eugene Manning.

TRAIN HURLS PARTY INTO TOP OF TREE

SUPERIOR, Wis., Nov. 26.—Chris Eimon, a wholesale merchant of this city, and his 11 year old daughter, were severely injured, the latter probably fatally, when their automobile was struck by a train near Rockmount, east of here. The automobile was demolished. Three other children were thrown into a tree top, two of them hanging by their clothing until rescued half an hour later.

DESPONDENT GIRL COMMITS SUICIDE

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 26.—Marty Franzkwick, aged 15, 953 Eighth avenue, an inmate of the House of Good Shepherd, committed suicide yesterday afternoon by taking carbolic acid.

The girl was committed Nov. 20, and had been despondent. She refused to do as she was told, and often expressed a wish to die.

FORMER SENATOR BIRD IS BURIED

MARINETTE, Wis., Nov. 26.—The funeral of former State Senator Harlan P. Bird, who died as the result of cerebral hemorrhage late Sunday, was held yesterday afternoon. Bird served in the state senate for eight years and was prominent in lumber circles here.

GIRL HUNTER'S GUN SHOOTS ITS OWNER

TONY, Wis., Nov. 26.—Miss Pearl Sherwood, daughter of S. D. Sherwood, living nine miles east of here, while hunting met with a serious accident and she may not live. She was sitting or standing on a log with the butt of the gun resting on the log, when the gun slipped, discharging a bullet through her body.

Ab Adkins has been so grouchy lately that even the agents are afraid of him. Not that we wish to encourage the mean disposition.

DEBATING SOCIETY TO HOLD BANQUET

The Lincoln Douglas Debating society was formed in the old high school Nov. 10, 1905 with Mr. A. H. Schubert lending all the assistance he could to make the society a success. From that time on the L. D. D. S. has been the leading literary society in the high school and it has passed through the usual run of ups and downs but always its strong members pulled it through the crisis. It has won more forensic honors for the school than has any other of the high school literary societies that have sprung up since the formation of it and its graduate members have gone out into larger and higher forensic fields and with the training received in the society have won even greater honors for themselves.

Tonight the customary birthday banquet of the society will be held in the high school lunch room this being the eighth birtday of the society. Mr. McCormick will act as toastmaster and several of the old members as well as members of the high school faculty are scheduled to speak. Mr. Schubert is scheduled for a talk which always is a feature of the speeches, without his talk the banquet could not be a success. Many of the old members who are in the city have signified their intention of attending.

MARY GARDEN LIKES SCOT DIET

NEW WYORK, Nov. 26.—Eat porridge and take a wee drop of Scotch—now and then. That is the latest recipe for beauty and longevity, brought to this country by Mary Garden, grand opera prima donna, formerly of South Chicago, who landed from a summer spent in Scotland.

PLAN ANTI-WAR STRIKE

BASEL, Switzerland, Nov. 26.—The international socialist congress called here to discuss means of preventing war, and especially to oppose the spread of the Balkan struggle today decided on an anti-war strike of all trades throughout the world to continue the full twenty-four hours of December 16.

It's the nerve of some people that makes the other people nervous.

MATRON OF HOME TELLS HOW SHE KEEPS 40 CHILDREN STRONG

Gives Them Father John's Medicine to Keep Them in Perfect Health. Builds You Up, Makes Flesh and Strength

I have 40 or 50 children here at the children's home constantly. When they are weak or run down I always give them Father John's Medicine to build them up. They all gain rapidly under the treatment the medicine affords. Whenever they get cold or have a cough or throat irritation Father John's Medicine gives prompt and sure relief.

Little Stanley Peabody, two years old last February, has been with us since he was 2 months old. I am sure that his life was saved by Father John's Medicine. It cured him of bronchitis. I gave it to him on the advice of our house physician." (Signed) Ellen O'Leary, Matron Children's Home, Lowell, Mass.

If you have any difficulty in getting Father John's Medicine from your druggist write to Father John's Medicine, Lowell, Mass., enclosing $1.00 for a large bottle by express prepaid.

HORSE SALE ON

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The Old Glory horse sale is in progress today at the Madison Square garden, more than 1,000 horses being offered. With the exception of Merchester, which brought $2,000, the bidding was light.

When short skirts are fashionable women are not apt to miss their trains.
